Two Overcome Fighting Fire Over Main St. Bar

IT STARTED THREE YEARS AGO. Four American GIs at the 121 evacuation hospital in Korea put up a sign to call attention to the third anniversary of the Korean war. Pfc. Carmine Del Pezzo (left) of Brooklyn, N. Y., voiced the feelings of the others when he said: "I wonder if there will be a fourth anniversary?" Cpl. Charles Owens (in wheelchair) of Cherryville, N.C., Pfc. Albert Skitzki (second from right), Hazelton, Penna., and Pvt. Ellis Ben of Summerville, S. C., (right) are three more patients in the hospital that has treated more than 100,000 men since the outbreak of the Korean war.

Hard Money Policy Eased To Aid Govt.

Must Meet Huge Borrowing Needs Of Treasury Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board has suddenly eased its tight money policy in a move it said will help the Treasury meet huge borrowing needs without cutting into the nation's prosperity.

The board announced late yesterday it was lowering the amount of reserves its member banks are required to keep. The action was expected to increase bank lending power by about $5,780,000,000.

A Treasury spokesman said the Treasury estimates it will have to borrow between five and six billion dollars in the next three months, and will announce next week how it will do so.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said in a statement the Federal Reserve Board had not started a retreat from the Eisenhower administration's hard money policy, which has resulted in a general rise in interest rates.

He said the board acted independently, but after "full consultation" with the Treasury.

The reserve board's announcement said it acted "in anticipation of the exceptionally heavy demands on bank reserves which will develop in the near future when seasonal requirements of the economy will expand and Treasury financing (borrowing) in large volume is inescapable."

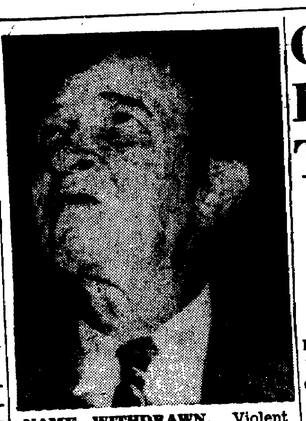
Humphrey has said the Treasury will need 9 to 12 billion dollars new money in the next six months. The federal reserve has acted to supply Treasury money needs of the next three months only, and evidently will await developments before any further loosening of the money supply, or new restriction.

The board's action concerned the percentage of demand deposits, such as checking accounts, which member banks must deposit as a reserve with the federal reserve system.

Deposits which the federal reserve requires banks to hand over to it can neither be loaned nor invested, so the percentage of required reserves regulates the amount banks can lend. When the federal reserve ~~lowers reserve~~ requirements, as at present, lending power is increased.

Under the new regulations, effective July 1, the smallest "country" federal reserve member banks may keep 13 instead of 14 per cent of their deposits in the hands of the reserve system.

Effective July 9, the board said banks in cities with federal reserve branch banks may drop their reserves to 19 instead of 20 per cent of their demand deposits, and banks in cities with federal reserve district banks may keep 22 instead of 24 per cent of their deposits in reserve. Federal reserve member banks hold about 85 per cent of commercial deposits.



NAME WITHDRAWN. Violent opposition from senators killed President Eisenhower's nomination of Tom Lyon (above), 65, to head the U. S. Bureau of Mines. Secretary of Interior McKay asked the President to withdraw the name from the Senate after Lyon himself requested he no longer be considered for the job.

Ike Peeved, Embarrassed At Lyon Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reportedly is in a knuckle-rapping mood because of failure of the administration's job-screening program to turn up the data which Congress later uncovered in the Tom Lyon case.

And there were indications the President may be somewhat embarrassed personally by his nomination of Lyon to be director of the Bureau of Mines. The White House said it will be withdrawn—the first time Eisenhower has done that.

Ohio Senate Faces Truck Tax Decision

Weight-Use Formula May Get Nod Over House's Axle Tax

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Senate Republicans are coming to grips with the last major issue of the 100th General Assembly—a bill to levy a tax on big trucks to help pay for arterial, inter-city highways.

The issue is before the Senate Taxation Committee, which appears at the moment to favor a weight-use tax on the highway boxcars. The House has passed an axle-tax bill.

The theory of the two taxes is not too far apart, but Sen. Donald H. Rolf (R-Hamilton), chairman of the Senate committee, says the two bills differ in these three important respects:

1. The weight-use tax would be collected in advance for a year, six months, or three months—for whatever period a trucker expects to use Ohio highways.

2. The weight-use tax does not require a trucker to keep books on every trip he makes because the tax is figured on an average annual mileage.

3. The weight—use tax adds a tax bracket for trucks with a gross weight of 18,000 to 23,000 pounds. The lowest weight category under the axle-mile proposal is 23,000 pounds.

The axle-mile tax, which Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche unexpectedly espoused just before the House approved it, would levy its tax quarterly. It would apply to trucks with three or more axles

Fight to Death, He Urges Countrymen

Rhee Whips Up Korean Revolt Against Truce

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee today told half a million cheering people massed in Seoul's streets that a truce must meet South Korean demands or else "we just simply ask to be allowed to decide our own fate by our own hands."

"We want to fight until death," he said.

Victory shouts of "Monsei" acclaimed the 78-year-old leader on this third anniversary of the war—his first public appearance since he upset a truce by freeing 27,000 anti-Red Korean prisoners.

Here and in shell-shattered cities throughout South Korea, cowds totaling a million or more held massive but orderly demonstrations called by the government.

In Pusan, Provincial Gov. Young Song Bong said President Eisenhower was wrong in agreeing to a truce line short of the Manchurian border.

In Seoul, under the bristling muzzles of machine guns, Rhee stood for 45 minutes in a boiling sun on the steps of the war-scarred Capitol justifying his views. The crowd thundered its approval when he told of freeing the anti-Red prisoners, an act which halted a truce even the Reds had said might be signed today.

The machine guns on the roof were to guard the white-haired Rhee against any repetition of the attempt last anniversary to assassinate him. But they were not needed.

Rhee repeated to the crowd jamming the streets before the Capitol as far as the eye could see the three demands he has been making for inclusion in a truce:

1. The war must resume if a post-armistice conferenc fails in 90 days to reach agreement.

2. The U. S. must give South Korea a mutual security pact, guaranteeing military aid "whenever Korea is invaded again."

3. "The Chinese Communist troops and the United Nations forces simultaneously withdraw from Korea."

In an emotion-choked voice, Rhee said over loudspeakers that so far there had been no official response to his demands and "our hopes are almost gone."

But he said South Korea, if denied the demands, should be accorded recourse to independent action.

"The reason we have declared our stand in this respect is by no means to ask our allies to back us or we ourselves to obstruct the conclusion and observance of a truce by the United Nations," he said.

"What we want is that, because we know we will die if we follow our allies, we be given an opportunity to fight on, if by ourselves. This demand must not be regarded as an act of deserting or betraying or refusing the United Nations.

"We do not blame the individual U. N. nations which follow their own interests. We just simply ask to be allowed to decide our own fate by our own ands."

U. N. military and diplomatic officials were conspicuously absent from the demonstrations. The word went out that the military wasn't invited.

Rhee did pay tribute to the U. N. military effort, saying that otherwise South Korea would not be a living, fighting force today.

Rhee To Get U.S. Views Tomorrow

Ike's Representative Arrives in Seoul For Secret Parley

SEOUL (AP) — A personal representative of President Eisenhower arrived in Seoul today with an urgent, secret message aimed at winning President Syngman Rhee over to a quick truce on Allied terms.

The U. S. State Department's Far East chief, Walter S. Robertson, will meet Rhee tomorrow in a critical face-to-face talk that may be a showdown between South Korea and its biggest ally, the United States.

Robertson arrived just after Rhee demanded a "showdown with the Communists now" as he spoke from the Capitol, echoed by the cheers of a half-million South Koreans. Rhee again demanded unification of North and South Korea by treaty or by guns and refused any armistice without it.

Robertson flew here hurriedly from Washington.

He told newsmen South Korea and the U. N. should strive "to achieve not only peace wit honor but also a free, united, independent Korea."

He said:

"Division now could only result in victory for the enemy and needless sacrifice of all for which our two countries have contributed so deeply in blood and treasure."

Robertson conferred at length in Tokyo with Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. commander, before flying with the U. S. message to Korea. He was accompanied to Korea by Ellis O. Briggs, U. S. ambassador to Korea.

The message presumably is intended to bring the balky, 78-year-old President into line with a truce that was all but signed before he stymied it—at least temporarily—by arbitrarily releasing 27,000 anti-Red Korean prisoners. Since then, armistice hopes have

Damage Put At $10,000 In Blaze

Starts in Smitty's Grill, Spreads To Lodge Above It

Two Marion city firemen were overcome by dense smoke Wednesday night while fighting a two-hour blaze above Smitty's Bar and Grill, 148 S. Main St.

Loren Bailey of 438 N. State St., from the Mark St. fire station, and John Chaney of 852 Merkle Ave., from the Central station, were taken to Marion City Hospital, where they were given first aid treatment for smoke exhaustion, and released.

Oxygen was administered the firemen at the hospital in addition to oxygen given by both city fire and police department inhalators at the fire scene.

Fire Chief O. A. Sifritt estimated total damage of the fire at between $10,000 and $15,000. Most of the damage was to the roof of the two-story building and to labor union lodgerooms above the bar.

The blaze started about 9:40 p. m. in a motor in the exhaust system which carries cooking fumes from Smitty's Bar and Grill kitchen. Chief Sifritt said the motor, which was located on the second-floor level just behind and above the kitchen, might have stuck, causing the ignition.

Paint Blistered

The fire burned the motor and shaft and continued upward to the roof. Intense heat from the fire and thick smoke caused considerable damage on the second floor where rooms of the Carpenters' Union Local No. 976, AFL, are located. Varnish and paint throughout the Union rooms were blistered by the heat and smoke which swept across to the north side of the building.

Most of the fire damage, however, the chief stated, was in the roof of the building.

Harold Smith of 536 Forest St., owner of Smitty's Bar and Grill said the first he knew of the fire was when one of his customers called him away from the television set in the bar to "see the fire." Reflection of the flames from the second floor could be seen in the glass windows of business establishments across the street, Smith said.

A total of three fire trucks, 12 on-duty firemen, three off-duty firemen, a number of civilian defense volunteers and a number of other volunteers were used to fight the fire, Chief Sifritt said.

Also a total of some 1,100 feet of fire hose consisting of 850 feet of 2½ inch hose and 150 feet of one-inch hose was laid to carry water to the blaze.

The fire was under control in about 30 minutes. The rest of the time was used in mopping up operations, Chief Sifritt reported.

Four Arrested

Refusal of three men to obey police orders to move back to give firemen more room to fight the fire cost them a total of $45 and costs in Municipal Court today.

Donald F. Estes, 24, Alfred Leroy Estes, 22, both of 210 Reed Ave. and Jack E. Davis, 23, of 232 Reed Ave. were all arrested at 11:13 p.m. at the fire on charges of disorderly conduct. Police Chief Tom Coon said the trio

RCA, NBC Reopen Color TV Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Radio Corp. of America and the National Broadcasting Co., today reopened the fight to get government approval for a compatible color television system.

This is a system in which color telecasts could also be received in black and white by present TV sets, without need of any adaptation.

In a 697-page petition filed with the Federal Communications Commission, RCA and its NBC affiliate contended it is essential to have a color-casting plan which will preserve the public's investment in TV receivers now in use.

3 Business Places Entered In County

Two Waldo Supply Firms, Drive-In Theater Broken Into

Three break-ins during the night in Marion County, seemingly the work of the same person or persons, were reported today by the Marion County sheriff's office.

Two break-ins were in Waldo. At the Waldo Supply Company approximately three dollars worth of nickels were taken from a soft drink machine, and at Retterer's Coal Supply Co., contents of a safe were scattered on the floor.

The third break-in was at the South Drive-In Theater south of Marion on Route 23 where apparently cigarettes were the only items missing.

In all cases entry was gained by breaking open doors leading into the buildings, the sheriff's office disclosed. A crowbar and screwdriver seemed to be the only tools used to pry open the doors.

Time of the break-ins has been established as being between approximately midnight to around 7 a.m. today.

James Ward, an employee of the Waldo Supply Co., discovered the break-in there this morning at 7 o'clock when he reported for work. Entry was made by breaking through two wooden doors at the back entrance.

Calvin Retterer, manager of the coal supply company, discovered the break-in at his office about 7:30 this morning. He told the sheriff's office he could find nothing missing, but papers from an open safe were strewn around the floor. Here, too, entry had been made by breaking through doors in the main building and another smaller building.

A caretaker, Alfred Beringer, first discovered the break-in at the theater when he reported for work this morning about 8:45 a.m., Fred W. Thacker, theater manager, told the sheriff's office.

Four doors in the combination projection room and concession stand building were broken when entry was made sometime after 12:30 today.

Taken from the concession stand were several cartons of cigarets, cigars, soft drinks, ice cream, peanuts and cracker-jacks.

Reds Launch Big Attack as War Enters 4th Year

SEOUL (AP)—The Chinese Communist threw 9,000 men tonight into bloody attacks along the front on the third anniversary of the Korean War.

The attacks, breaking a day-long lull, hit on the Western Front along the road to Seoul, and on the East Central Front.

Two regiments, possibly 6,000 men, struck four South Korean positions west of Yonchon, which is some 40 miles north of Seoul.

Another 3,000 Chinese struck on the East Central Front where a Red drive last week pushed a bulge two miles deep in the Allied lines.

The Chinese poured in through the darkness and struck the Little Nori-Kelly Hill sector.

This broke a three-week lull on that vital sector of the Western Front. Not since last month when the Chinese won several positions near the truce town of Panmunjom had the Communists hit the Western Front with anything more than assaults in company size.

The Chinese apparently are still throwing the big attacks at South Korea's Army. South Korea violently opposes an armistice and Communist correspondents at Panmunjom have said the Red attacks were to "teach the South Koreans a lesson."

The Eighth Army reported the Red attack in the East-Central sector of the front came south of Capitol Hill, which the Reds seized in last week's drive.

Reports from the battlefront gave few details of the fighting.

Berlin Reds Plan Another Workers Rally

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's shaky Communist government today scheduled another workers' rally in East Berlin, apparently hopeful that careful organization and Soviet steel would prevent this one from developing into another open rebellion.

Party bosses called on workers of the city's three big eastern boroughs—Mitte, Friedrichshain and Kopenick—to show their support at a mass demonstration tomorrow for the regime's announced plans to make things better for the working class.

Approval for the gathering was granted by Soviet Maj. Gen. P. T. Dibrova, commander of the Red Army diviisons which crushed the violent June 17 rebellion following a similar Communist-permitted demonstration.

As the shaken Communists wheedled the workers with one hand, they threatened with the other by continued declarations that ringleaders of the bloody uprisings throughout the East zone have been or will be severely punished.

Flemming Sworn In as Mobilizer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan University, was sworn in today as defense mobilizer at an unusual White House ceremony.

Even President Eisenhower expressed surprise at the length of the oath which Justice Burton of the Supreme Court read in full. He noted it was the first time since entering the White House that he had heard the entire oath for office holders. He asked for a copy.

Congressional Testimony Published

Batch of U.S. Military Secrets Is Disclosed In Breach of Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—Somebody's security slip was showing today with publication of recent testimony about military secrets by Army officials before a House appropriations subcommittee.

Military secrets which popped into the open included information about:

1. An entirely new weapons-carrying vehicle, nicknamed "The Thing" but carrying the official designation "Ontos," to be used variously, including as a mount for a new "very high-powered" recoilless rifle and for a quadruple .50-caliber anti-aircraft weapon against low-flying planes.

2. A plan to provide "much longer range" for the 280-millimeter cannon, which now has a 20-mile accurate range and fires either atomic or conventional shells; and a new shell, slightly smaller than the caliber of this giant cannon, expected to extend its range "by about 50 per cent."

3. "Extra light tanks," two of which are under test, of a type expected eventually to replace the 28-ton Walker Bulldog tank.

4. A lightweight radar for battle-front use, apparently to help detect enemy attempts at infiltration of the front line, a technique much used by the Communists in the Korean War.

5. A long-range radar IFF (identification, friend or foe), which could mean the identification of aircraft long before they are within range of anti-aircraft guns or guided missiles.

6. A folding, portable bridge, to be carried on top of a tank as a shelter for the crew while being put in place under enemy fire.

7. A steam outboard motor for small boats, to be used for quiet crossing of rivers when the noise of gasoline outboard motors would warn the enemy.

Army officials expressed amazement and appeared appalled when copies of the 1,667-page printed testimony released by the subcommittee reached the Pentagon.

Among the pages was information on new weapons still stamped secret by the Pentagon. It was not immediately clear how the mater-

WEDDING PLANNED

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), 36, one of the country's most eligible and wealthy bachelors, and Miss Jacqueline Lee Bouvier, 23, a 1948 Newport and New York debutante who became a news photographer, plan to be married Sept. 12.

Benson Plans Tour of Texas Drought Area

DALLAS (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson heads for Texas tomorrow — into a rising clamor for help by farmers and ranchmen suffering the most punishing drought in Southwest history.

Benson will attend the American Cotton Congress in Lubbock.

He has said he wants a first-hand look at drought conditions. Farmers and livestock men whose losses have pyramided into the millions promise he'll get it.

County drought committees are to meet with Benson Saturday. He is to arrive in Lubbock tomorrow night.

The Southwest's soil conservation chief, Louis Merrill, yesterday called the drought in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana "the longest and most severe and widespread in history."

Merrill said the drought is eclipsing the great dry spells of 1896, 1909, 1917-18 and 1934-36.

Crops are scorched. Deep cracks are spreading through seared and barren rangelands. Cattle are starving.

Merrill said virtually the entire Texas landscape "is browned and bleak.

"Pastures are completely burned up all over the state and the North Texas corn crop is in danger of being completely destroyed."

725-Pound 'Tiny' Kinsey of Near Bucyrus Marries 162-Pound Nurse

'Second Largest Man' Wed; Was Born in Marion

Seven hundred and twenty-five pound Charles "Tiny" Kinsey and his bride, who weighs 162 pounds, were on their honeymoon today following their marriage Wednesday afternoon in Galion. The bride is the former Beverly J. Hankinson, 24, of Bothwell, Ontario, Canada.

Kinsey, who operates a service station near Bucyrus, claims to be the "second largest man in the world." He met his future wife three years ago when she was visiting Mrs. Charles Burdick, who lives opposite the Kinsey Truck Stop and Restaurant, four miles west of Bucyrus on Route 30-N.

A native of Marion, where he weighed eight pounds at birth, "Tiny" is five feet, 11 inches tall and has a waist measure of 100 inches. All his clothes are made to order. He wears a size 23 shirt and his shoe size is 13 EEE.

The bride, who weighed only one and one-half pounds at birth, now stands five feet, seven inches. A practical nurse, she served two years in the women's division of the Royal Canadian Air Force. She is one of a set of identical twins. Her sister died at the age of two months.

Kinsey, who is 32, recalls that he played four years of football at LaRue High School. He weighed 286 when he was a high school freshman and 375 when he was a senior.

Although he has turned down numerous movie and circus offers, Kinsey recently completed a tour of Western Virginia for the Eagles lodge, billed as the "world's largest Eagle."

Can't Get Behind Wheel

Tiny drives an automobile while seated in the right-hand seat of the car, "because I can't get behind the wheel."

"I do all the driving with my left foot and left hand, and so far I've been stopped by police, sheriffs, state patrolmen and other officers 149 times."

"Every time the officers tell me 'You get under the wheel' and I answer 'You solve that problem for me and I'll be glad to do it.' Sometimes they make me take road tests to show that I can drive and park the car safely. And I can. Last fall, I drove across country and back in four days," he stated.

The largest man in the world, according to Tiny, resides in Cattlesburg, Ill., and weighs 820 pounds. "But he is confined to his home and he can't move around at all," Tiny explains.

The new Mrs. Kinsey relates that it was during her first visit to the Burdick home three years ago that she saw Tiny drive his auto from the right hand side and she was curious as to how he did it. One day she told that to Tiny and he invited her to "come along and I'll show you how it's done."

After completing her military duty, Miss Hankinson returned to the Burdick home about six months ago for a visit. She remained there, visiting and seeing more of Tiny. Then, some two months ago, they "just decided to get married."

Miss Hankinson is acquainted with Mrs. Burdick due to the fact the latter at one time had been a resident of Bothwell, Ontario, and the bride explains that she used to be a baby sitter for Mrs. Burdick.

Furniture Extra Strong

In the apartment where the newly married couple will reside, located upstairs over the garage, nearly all the furniture is specially-treated to support Tiny's weight. In most cases,

Mel Martin, former television star and originator of the WLW-TV "Morning Matinee" program, will present a special program of preaching and singing at the Radnor Baptist Church Tuesday at 8 p.m.

He recently left the entertainment field for the full time ministry. His wife assists him in his preaching work.

The Rev. A. Thomas Gibbony is pastor of the Radnor Church.

Progressive Grange Conducts Degree Work

One candidate for membership was given degree work at a meeting of Progressive Grange Tuesday night in the Grange hall. Howard Click, master, presided for the meeting. An announcement was made of Pomona Grange meeting to be held July 4, with Pleasant Grange as the host group.

Guest speaker for the program was Betty Newton of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. She gave a talk on "Nutrition." She was introduced by Mrs. Marion Clark. Also for the program, a quiz on Ohio was conducted by Mrs. Harold Austin and Mrs. Earl Thomas, and a parody on "Yankee Doodle," with actions, was sung by the group, directed by Mrs. Alpheus Gruber. A miscellaneous shower was held for Mr. and Mrs. William Crabtree, who were recently married. Mrs. Crabtree is the former Miss Martha Price.

Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. Chester Gruber, Mrs. S. F. Wolfinger and Mrs. Floyd Higgins.

Take State FFA Honors

Crawford Co. Boys High in Ratings

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Crawford County representatives at the state Future Farmers of America convention in Columbus last week captured numerous honors, County Agriculture Agent Russell L. Miller reported today.

Carl Schimpf from Holmes-Liberty took first place in shop organization judging and Lloyd Kocher of Sulphur Springs won first honors in dairy judging, competing with 840 farm youths.

In dairy judging, Sulphur Springs' team placed fifth among 280 teams. Team members are Lloyd Kocher, Eldon Pfleiderer and Gerald Steiger. Holmes-Liberty's poultry and egg judging team, composed of James Shaffstall, William Leuthold and Ronald Hord, placed tenth.

In individual judging of general livestock, Gerald Steiger of Sulphur Springs was second among 838 contestants and the Sulphur general livestock judging team, composed of Steiger, Pfleiderer and Charles Sturtz, finished seventh, competing with 280 teams.

Allan Schiefer of Holmes-Liberty placed second in individual judging of mixed fat lambs and, sixth in judging of sheep and wool and tenth in judging of Shropshire ewes. He also was entered in team events and placed sixth in team judging of sheep and wool.

LIST TORNADO DAMAGE

CLEVELAND (AP)—Building Commissioner William D. Guion, completing a survey Wednesday said the June 8 tornado hit 2,704 buildings in Cleveland. Sixty-five homes and 21 business buildings were destroyed, while 547 houses and 91 business buildings were damaged severely.

Don't Blame Junior

By FRANK TRIPP

The child looks into the parent's mind, says one of the childless authorities on how to bring up a family. I'll settle for that, provided the parent has a mind and stays around home enough for the kid to get a look into it.

What we need are kindergarten courses telling children how to bring up parents; now that Junior has taken over the lives of the household and rules the roost. He has been ceded authority without preparation. The results are nothing to brag about.

TRIPP

Instead the specialists put their effort on parents, who then spend copious time talking it over with each other at highbrow meetings. They could be learning the real answers back home, only they can't be bothered.

The dog books get at the root of the thing. They sum it up in the first chapters where they say that, to master a dog, first off you've got to know more than the dog.

Sure enough, the child does look into the adult mind; and he can spot a softlie just like a dog can. He can spot impatience and parental tyranny too; and love, when he can see enough of his parents to become acquainted with them.

The day the kids took over was when so many gadding mothers and club-smitten fathers began farming them out at age four to be housebroke and wised up by hired mentors; so as to be rid of the irksome tasks of the old-fashioned parent.

Then they get them back around age six and turn them over to stymied school teachers who have been stripped of the only persuader that could influence half of them—the knout.

"Spare the rod and spoil the child" went out of the window with nickel sodas and penny lollipops. The only birds with rods today are the teensters with hot rods and gangsters with gats.

AT SEVEN a precocious kid, reared by strangers, begins to take charge of things around home and gets himself tagged some kind of a problem child. His case is studied by the experts who warn not to wreck his spirit or smother his initiative. Don't cross him; reason it out.

So his parents get 'emselves some kid gloves and start in to build Junior over into something like they wish he was. Again, the dog books say, you can't teach an old dog new tricks. By eleven, headstrong Junior is older and wiser than his folks were on their wedding day—he thinks. Viewing that day's product, the parents begin to think so too.

I liked Irvin Cobb for a lot of things, but none more than his observation that the average boy should be coopered inside a barrel from ages seven to eleven—and fed through the bunghole. As a great-grandfather, I'm beginning to agree with Cobb. What happens to a kid from seven to eleven is pretty much going to influence his whole life.

SO WHAT? Well, the old-fashioned mother stuck with her boy and stayed boss. She was too busy bringing him up to study any newfangled technique to ease her burden.

She just brought him up by being with him; reared him to respect his parents, revere his God, love his country. What a job!

All she knew was that affection, sympathy and understanding come out of a mother's heart, not from lecture platforms and rule books.

She knew too that when the brat got cantankerous no persuader quite equalled a smart wallop across the jaw or a strap across his upturned bottom.

Pity the hamstrung lad who was weaned by proxy, mothered by hirelings, fashioned by formulae, confused by pink professors; drafted by government, shot at by pagans, and dumped into life's cruel maelstrom with an honorable discharge, a jackknife and

A hatred for society—and work.

Turney-Leuthold Vows Given at Mt. Zion

BUCYRUS — Nuptial vows were exchanged Sunday afternoon in Mt. Zion EUB Church, southwest of here, by Miss Joyce A. Turney and Richard A. Leuthold. The double ring ceremony was performed in an open church service by the Rev. Darwin Clupper, church pastor. Miss Turney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Merrill Turney of near Bucyrus, and Mr. Luethold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leuthold of near Bucyrus.

Mrs. James F. Miller was matron of honor for her sister and Miss Virginia Leuthold, sister of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid. Gerald Hoover was best man and ushers were James F. Miller, Gerald Hatcher and Dwight Etter. A reception was held for 135 guests on the lawn of the Turney home following the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Leuthold are 1952 graduates of Mt. Zion High School. The bride now is employed as a cost accountant at the Marion Tecumseh Products Co. Mr. Leuthold is a farmer. They will live on a farm near Bucyrus.

TRINITY CIRCLE MEETS

The Ruth Mather Circle of Trinity Baptist Church met June 18 at the home of Mrs. Reed Epley Mrs. Harry Francis was chairman for the meeting. Mrs. Irl Reasoner led the devotion. Plans for a picnic in August were discussed.

President Rhee's Trump Ace

Could South Korea's President Rhee carry out his threat to withdraw his government's troops from the United Nations command unless his truce terms are met?

This would be the trump ace in the frantic game the old statesman is playing in the twilight of his long career. The stakes are high on both sides. They are high for Syngman Rhee and the Koreans, and they are high for the United States and its allies in the Korean war.

Anyone who feels like retorting that the United States should threaten to withdraw its own troops from the U. N. command and thereby leave South Korea in the lurch is a victim of the lack of candor which has marked this tragic episode in Asiatic pressure politics.

The United States is in Korea and is glad to have allies in the Korean war because it is solely responsible by treaty for the security of Japan. If Korea fell wholly into the hands of an unfriendly power, Japan would be in peril.

The United States cannot afford to lose South Korean troops. Rhee knows that. He knows the value of his trump ace.

Its value was increased enormously by the training program carried out under Gen. Van Fleet. South Korean troops now are a prime military asset.

Diplomacy is a hard game. Syngman Rhee has played it a long time. He is trying to keep South Korea from getting the worst of a bad bargain at the end of a war nobody wanted and that nobody can afford to lose.

Speaking of Weather

Reports being submitted to Congress by various administrative departments all agree that atomic explosions in Nevada have had nothing to do with tornadoes or any other unusual weather conditions. The boys are being firm.

Their reports will not dispose of the suspicion that the explosions are to blame. That is because of wishful thinking.

Ever since the Age of Reason took care of the theory that weather was caused by whimsical gods and goddesses, men have been looking for a scapegoat. Nuclear fission provides the scapegoat.

If the bureaucrats and scientists are smart, they will go along with the gag. They won't fight back. They will even push the gag along in the line of least resistance, blaming all bad weather on the Russians and taking credit to themselves for the good weather.

This is a time for philosophy, gentlemen, not scientific reasoning.

No Money in Sight

Amid angry charges of rural domination, the Ohio Senate has adopted a school - subsidy bill which fits perfectly into the plan of the state's school foundation law.

This is the plan whereby minimum standards of education are supported throughout the state by pooling state resources, then distributing them on a formula basis.

The effect is to put a floor under the poorest of the rural districts forced to get along on the minimum standard. In the wealthy city districts, a much higher standard is maintained.

The Senate version of the school - subsidy principle merely raises the minimum standard for needy districts by small amounts. The charges of rural domination were set off by the Senate's refusal to distribute similar amounts of money to school districts which are not considered needy.

If there is anything seriously wrong with the bill, it is not the distinction it makes between rural apd city school districts. It is, rather, assumption by Ohio senators and by Ohio Republicans that they can safely commit the state to spend more money than Gov. Lausche estimates it will receive in 1953 and 1954.

The school - subsidy bill calls for $16 million more than the amount recommended in Lausche's budget. The bill's backers assume additional revenue will be forthcoming — that it will turn up in some form or another. If it doesn't turn up, Ohio will be stuck with an IOU.

Spending money they don't have has been a favorite pastime of legislators in Washington, D. C., but so far the idea has been frowned on in Columbus, O.

Ignorance Truly Bliss

Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, of New Jersey, embattled all around, explains he is no politician, no political expert. "I don't know anything about politics," he murmurs with a sigh. Frank G. Clement who became governor of Tennessee, also didn't know anything at all about politics. Neither, so it was widely heralded, did his friend Albert Gore, who serenely became a Tennessee senator. Neither, as he implies in a how-I-did-it article in the Saturday Evening Post, did John A. Scott, mayor of South Bend, Ind. Knives are whetted for the man who boasts of his political prowess. Claims of naive innocence in politics open hearts and ring up votes. Long experiences in politics has proven that it's good politics not to know a thing about politics—at least for publication.

Record of Treachery

By David Lawrence

Korean War Replete With Incidents of Guilt

The governments of Great Britain, France and the United States may regret some day their cavalier treatment of the government of the Republic of Korea and especially the accusation that the latter has been guilty of "treachery" to the United Nations command.

History will recount that the treatment of this small nation by the major powers was replete with incidents that may well raise the question of whether the "treachery" of the U. N. didn't come first and provoke the action of President Rhee in releasing the anti-Communist prisoners in his jurisdiction.

If the record of "treachery" is to be opened up to impartial review, it may come to mean that any independent action by a sovereign government out of harmony with its allies is a breach of faith if it occurs during a war in which presumably there had been a common cause.

Thus was it or was it not "treachery" for the British government to send rubber to Soviet Russia during the Korean War?

Was it "treachery" for the Allies to put pressure on the American government so as to reverse the recommendation of its Joint Chiefs of Staff that enemy airplanes be pursued to their bases when they were attacking United Nations forces?

Was it "treachery" when, after the Korean War began, the British government carried on diplomatic relations with the Red China government despite the fact that the U.N. had condemned the government of Red China as an aggressor?

Wasn't it "treachery" when the Soviet government admitted publicly during a United Nations debate that it had been supplying arms and ammunition to Red China and the North Korean Communist armies?

Why didn't the governments of the United States, Great Britain and France send notes to the Moscow government denouncing such "treachery" against other members of the United Nations, which was seeking to repel aggression and had called by formal resolution on all members to refrain from sending help to the aggressors?

Do the big governments use the word "treachery" only against the small, weaker nations? If so, it will not go over so well in Asia when the European and American governments try in the future to impress Asians with their professions of sincerity.

Wasn't it "treachery" when the United Nations, having misled the Republic of Korea into making enormous sacrifices based on the U. N. resolution of October 7, 1950, abandoned that pledge of unification by military means and gave it an altogether different interpretation in order to make a quick truce with the enemy?

The resolution — adopted at the height of the Korean War — pledged the U. N. forces to establish conditions of peace and stability "throughout Korea."

Was it "treachery" when the United Nations refused to permit the South Korean government to sit as an equal at the Panmunjom negotiating table and actually excluded that government's topmost executive from participating in the negotiations as a principal?

These questions may be scoffed at by the diplomats who feel that what they do is always right and that any nation which criticizes or dissents from their policies is an obstructionist.

The fact remains that the U. N. has tried to create the impression that the government of the Republic of Korea is a free and sovereign entity.

Not long ago a British spokesman, commenting on differences between America and Britain, said quite pointedly that surely the United States didn't want to act toward Great Britain as if she were a satellite state, for that was a Soviet technique.

Yet in Asia and Europe the impression now is being created that, just as North Korea is a puppet of Moscow, so South Korea must become a puppet of Washington or be destroyed.

The record of the Korean government, in making plain its attitude on the prisoner question, had been clear for a long time before the prisoners was ordered.

The Allied governments blundered in minimizing the Korean position and in acting now as if coercion could be applied at any moment to squelch it.

This may result in a tragic loss of all that was achieved in three years of war.

If disaffection inside South Korea grows to the point of hostilities, then the United Nations is in for a long police action aimed at South Korea. This would be a ridiculous climax to an idealistic war.

Indeed, it seems strange that Sir Winston Churchill should be telling the House of Commons that more British troops may now have to be sent to Korea to enforce the orders of the U.N.

Only a few months ago American public opinion was asking why more British troops were not being sent to Korea to fight the Communists.

Evidently there will be plenty of force available to fight the troops of the man who has stood out to the last against Communist "treachery" and who may find himself compelled to fight alone, if necessary, to secure the independence of his people.

If international coercion becomes the rule in the U.N., it will be a sorry day for all the member governments which object to such measures as the United States Congress has been debating — as, for instance, making grants of financial aid conditional on the ratification of European defense treaties or the restricting of trade with the enemy and similar policies that used to be considered the right of each nation to decide for itself, uncoerced by any other nation.

Words like "treachery" and "coercion" are being loosely used nowadays, but they will not sit well with the Korean people, who are going to be asked to hold the line against the aggressors if American boys are ever to be brought home from Korea.

Business Is Booming

Arming Alien Nations Involves Risks

By Jay G. Hayden

The United States and Russia alike have had reason in the past few days to question the wisdom of placing arms in the hands of alien peoples.

By order of the Korean president, Syngman Rhee, native prison guards carrying American rifles permitted 27,000 anti-Communist prisoners to escape. And Rhee is openly threatening both to order 16 South Korean divisions to continue the war in defiance of the projected truce and to attack Indian troops, proposed to be brought in to supervise prisoner exchange under the truce.

South Korean troops, numbering 650,000 with their behind-the-lines support units, are American trained and supplied with the very latest and best U. S. arms and equipment.

Probably most of them also get their pay, directly or indirectly, from Washington.

Meanwhile in Europe, panicky German Communist leaders were reported withdrawing even the crack honor guard of East German Communist Volkspolizei for fear they would take sides with rebellious German compatriots.

Instead, the Communist official quarter in East Berlin was surrounded by Russian tank and machine-gun units.

At Georitz, on the German-Polish frontier, a Polish tank company brought in to suppress German strikers was reported by a refugee as refusing to fire on the rioters. The Russians, this informant said, called back the Polish unit and sent in Russian tanks to put down the disturbance.

Both the German Communist police and the Polish army, of course are handpicked and trained by the Russians and equipped with Russian arms.

For many years Russia has been resisting evacuation of Austria because continuance there is her only excuse of maintaining military occupation of Hungary and Rumania.

Each of the latter have large native armies, built under Russian tutelage but which the Kremlin apparently does not trust sufficiently to leave alone.

The uprising in Czechoslovakia last week centered in Pilsen, seat of Europe's biggest Communist armament works.

There, as in Germany, Russian soldiers were rushed in to calm the revolt, despite that there were large Czech forces nearer at hand.

The United States is not without past experience of supplying military equipment, only to have it later turned against us.

In his famous White Paper on China, published in 1949, Secretary Acheson admitted that approximately a billion dollars worth of military equipment, supplied by the United States to Nationalist China after the Japanese surrender, had been handed over to Chinese Communists.

The lost material, the report said, was sufficient "to complete the remaining 50 per cent of the wartime program (also of American aid) designed to equip 39 Chinese divisions."

To this was added "101 million dollars of surplus military equipment including over 300 airplanes and very large quantities of ammunition, and 125 million dollars under the China Aid Act of 1948, expended largely for military equipment."

"A large proportion of the military supplies" so furnished to the Chiang Kai-shek regime, Mr. Acheson said, "has fallen into the hands of the Chinese Communists through the military ineptitude of the Nationalist leaders, their defections and surrenders, and the absence among their forces of the will to fight."

Despite this past experience with Chiang, the Truman administration instituted in 1951 a new program of building up a Nationalist Chinese army on Formosa.

Right now the Formosan Chinese are yelling loudly in opposition to the Korean truce and in praise of President Rhee for his resistance to United States policy.

Similarly, the United States recently has been pouring arms into Indo-China, with no certainty that they will continue in Anti-Communist hands.

The king of Cambodia, one of the three Indo-Chinese provinces, fleeing into Thailand last week, warned that unless the French moved faster toward granting independence he and other native leaders might have to turn to dealing with Communists.

United States dollars flowing into arms build-up of at least a score of nations, the only requirement being that they resist Communism. Late arrivals on the list are Turkey, Yugoslavia and Spain.

As illustrated in the lost election in Italy two weeks ago, it is far from a certainty that voters of these countries may not one day embrace the Communist cause.

The Difference

By TRUMAN TWILL

A Kansas college boy has a good chance to be the first human being in the world to run a four-minute mile. He has been clocked at 4:02.4—fastest time ever made by an American runner.

Fastest time ever made by anyone was 4:01.4—one second less than the Kansas college boy turned in. Gunder Haegg is the mile record-holder. He also holds the records for two miles and three miles. The college boy's name is Wes Santee.

But this is not about track records. It's about the difference — the particle of difference which separates winners from also-rans.

In mile-running, the difference is one second out of about 240 seconds. In 100-yard-dash running it's one tenth of a second out of nearly 100 tenths of seconds. In other forms of athletic competition, it's a fraction of an inch, a shade more deftness in the finger tips, an intuitive sense of knowing what to do and doing it at precisely the right moment instead of a flicker too late.

In all forms of competition, the difference between good and excellent is infinitesimal. That is why there's risk in competitive enterprise. It's the source of the differences of opinion which make horse races, happy marriages for homely women, vice presidents unused options.

It is why more Broadway plays fail than succeed. It underlies victory and defeat in war, stock-market manipulations, the uncertainty of the book-publishing business and the traffic which clogs divorce courts.

There are a thousand smarties for every one genius. For every million characters who are the salt of the earth, there are a hundred who are the ultra-refined salt of the salt.

There are hordes of students but only a few thousand who have that something extra which marks them as the bright hopes for the future. There are seads of pretty women but only a few so pretty no one makes invidious comparisions.

The woods are full of comedians, but the really funny ones are so scarce they must be searched for under bushes. If all singers opened up simultaneously they'd split every eardrum, but there are only a few whose singing is memorable because its quality is unique.

Millions can make a stab at doing ticklish jobs but a handful can do them so adoitly and skillfully no one else can hope to match them.

The difference that distinguishes the humdrum from the extraordinary is slight — so slight as to be invisible to all but the keenest judges. And since keen judges, themselves, are a rarity, the difference is overlooked more often than it is perceived.

If that Kansas college boy can subtract one phht from 240 phhts, then take off another half of a ptt for good measure, he could be the fastest mile runner who ever lived. If he could get just one phht faster than that, he'd be the first man in history to run a mile in four minutes flat. That's all it would take.

Group Insurance Gains

Group insurance of all kinds covering millions of workers and their dependents increased 15 per cent last year in the United States, as measured by aggregate premiums paid. These premiums have more than doubled in the past five years.

This is shown in the annual survey made by the Life Insurance Association of America, covering the group-insurance business of all the types of companies which write group policies — life casualty, and accident and health insurance companies.

At the start of this year group life insurance covered 23,446,000 workers or their dependents; group accident and health weekly indemnity insurance covered 17,623,000; group hospital-expense insurance, 29,409,000 workers or their dependents; group surgical- expense, insurance, 29,576,000 workers or dependents; group medical expense, 10,115,000; group creditor's life insurance, 10,789,000; group annuities, 2,659,000.

For each of these types of group insurance, the number covered is the largest on record. The greatest growth in 1952 was shown in group surgical-expense insurance, for which the number covered was 3,200,000 greater than the year before. The increase for group hospital-expense insurance was 2,746,000.

This year's survey includes for the first time group major-medical-expense insurance, which was first written on an experimental basis as recently as 1949 and the real development of which did not begin until a year or two ago.

The survey shows that 289,000 workers and 243,000 dependents, or a total of 532,000 are now covered in 420 groups.

This insurance covers virtually all kinds of expense due to illness or accident and is designed to supplement the basic hospital surgical and medical-expense coverages. It covers costs in excess of a state minimum amount up to a high maximum, most commonly $5,000, and usually employs the principle of coinsurance by providing for reimbursement of only 75 or 80 per cent of the cost.

Huge New Plant

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Manufacturing space will occupy more than one million square feet in the new $50,000,000 Ford Motor Company factory being started at nearby Milpitas. It will be two or three years before the plant, on a 160-acre site, is completed.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

That Rising Golf Score

President Eisenhower's golf score has soared since he became president, it is announced. And why the surprise? Ike has one job the cares of which can't be shaken off merely by slamming a desk, taking a deep breath, climbing into golf pants and bellowing, "Fore!"

Picture the situation:

1. — Ike leaves office for links, saying, "Now for complete relaxation and good clean fun!" But voices whisper, "You've got to give that latest East German situation a lot of thought, "Don't forget those appointments tomorrow," "Better line up your thoughts for that speech only 72 hours away," etc.

2 —On way to golf course he sinks back in auto and tries to enjoy scenery, but does he see trees, fields and hills? Nope! Just an array of critical editors, curious correspondents, pesky Democrats, fellows with monkey wrenches, critics, etc.

3 — As he enters clubhouse there is something in the steward's voice that reminds him of Harry Truman.

4 — Changing his clothes in the locker room he sees fellow golfers all around him in shorts. It reminds him of a coming conference with a delegation from the men's garment trade and of a protest over the tariff on men's garters. As he notes the overhanging stomachs of businessmen golfers, he wonders if he is wrong about the physical fitness of America.

5 — "Well, forget everything and enjoy yourself," he says, as he walks to the first tee, but the echo stays, 'It's a good trick if you do it." The course looks green and beautiful to most men but Ike gazes across the landscape and what does he see? The rioting streets of Berlin and Seoul, the tents of Panmunjom.

6 — He takes his stance and looks at a foursome ahead. It is composed of four duffers and their caddies. But Ike squints down the fairway and sees Syngman Rhee, De Casperi, Malenkov and Gottewald. (And every caddy looks like Wayne Morse!!!)

7 — He dubs his drive because, while he kept his eye on the ball, he kept his mind on NATO.

8 — He comes to a small water hazard. But is it merely a small pond full of water lillies? Don't be crazy. It becomes the Suez Canal and the Straits of Formosa.

Take it from there. How can his golf score go anywhere but up?

Justice Douglas is a mountain climber, but he made a curious figure all alone out there on the icy peak trying to shout, "Excelsior!" "They're all out of step but me," and "Carera!" all in the same breath.

Minority stockholders are suing because of a new contract which gives Walt Disney $3,000 a week for seven years as head of Disney Productions . . . This is the first time Disney has really heard voices in real life like that of Donald Duck.

"Pickup on South Street" is a new movie which will rid you of any silly ideas that anybody in Hollywood is paying much attention to the fears of the American home over what criminal ideas the kids may pick up in movie scenarios.

Ike Eisenhower and Gene Autry held a conference the other day, and we understand Ike rejected the idea a lariat and guitar might sink a six-foot putt better than a putter.

New Yorkers are going to find those tokens for subway fare a terrible headache. If smart they will have their tailors put an extra pocket in the pants (a special token pocket) so when they reach for one they won't come up with a dime, a suspender button, a slug or an aspirin tablet. This also obviates the prospect or reaching for a dime or an aspirin and coming up with a token.

Alben Barkley's "Meet The Veep" program is being shifted so often that the title could be changed to "FIND The Veep." He suspects a Republican plot.

Dogs Take Big Bite Out of Army Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A dog takes a pretty big bite out of the Army's pocketbook.

The average cost of a dog—used for patrol duty with sentries and guards—is about $200, a witness told a House appropriations subcommittee in testimony released today.

But the Army shouldn't kick at the price for a mule or horse. A mule also averages $200, and a horse $205.

MRS. JACK CHAPMAN

Miss Stoneburner Becomes Bride Of Jack Chapman

—:—

A wedding of Sunday afternoon at Trinity Baptist Church was that of Miss Doris Imogene Stoneburner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil D. Stoneburner of 670 Meadow St., and Jack Chapman of Marion. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman of Hico, W.Va.

The ceremony was read at 4:30 p.m. by Dr. J. B. Holloway, pastor. Organist was Mrs. Cecil Davis, and vocalist, Robert Somerlot.

Decorating the church were palms and white gladioli, and tapers in two seven-branch candelabra lighted the altar.

Given in marriage by her brother, Russell Stoneburner, the bride was attired in white taffeta accented with Chantilly lace which extended into a cathedral train. The gown was fashioned with fingertip-length sleeves. An arrangement of pearls and rhinestones held the fingertip-length bridal veil. The bride carried a white Bible with red roses, and her jewelry included matching earrings and bracelet of rhinestones.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Shirley Barton who wore aqua taffeta under lace. Her flowers were yellow carnations with yellow streamers.

Miss Janet Ford and Mrs. Marie Trafzer were bridesmaids. They were gowned in yellow taffeta under lace and carried yellow carnations with aqua streamers.

Johnny Stoneburner, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer, and Nancy Braham, niece, flower girl, carried a basket of yellow daisies. Miss Ford and Mrs. Trafzer were the candlelighters.

Max Kaelber was best man, and Lewis Crouse and Delbert Stoneburner were ushers. Gifts of the bride to her attendants were rhinestone chokers, and the men were presented cufflinks.

A reception was held in the church parlors, with red roses, sweet peas, and pink and white candles as decorations. The bride's table held a four-tier wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom figures. Serving were Mrs. Irwin Braham, Mrs. Lewis Crouse, Mrs. William Sparting, Mrs. Russell Stoneburner and Mrs. Lloyd Powers.

The bride is employed at the Isaly Dairy Co. store on S. Main St., and the bridegroom at the Isaly Dairy Co. on E. Center St. They are making their home at 256 S. Vine St.

Ensign Roettger Takes Bride In West Virginia

The wedding of Ensign Norman C. Roettger Jr. of Green Camp and Miss Mary Dare Hedrick of Charles Town, W. Va., took place at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, June 20, in the garden of Claymont Court, the bride's home. The ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, the Rev. Ralph Hedrick of Beckley, W. Va.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was an exquisite gown of white imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over Skinner's satin. The full mylon overskirt and satin skirt was worn over hoops. The fitted lace jacket buttoned to a Peter Pan collar and the long fitted sleeves extended to points over the hands. Completing her costume was a finger-tip veil of nylon tulle held in place by a cap of illusion, trimmed in seed pearls. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white roses.

Miss Martha McCuthens of Green Bank, W. Va., was the maid of honor. Misses Dorothy and Frances Hist of East Liverpool, O., were the other attendants. Their frocks were of blue embroidered organdy styled with strapless bodices over which they wore matching stoles. The dresses had full waltz length skirts. They wore matching hats and white lace mitts.

Ensign Harold Roe of Toledo, a fraternity brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were a cousin of the bride, Lieut. T. J. Harwood of Camp Meade, Md., and John Roettger of Green Camp, the bridegroom's brother. Carol Jane Smith of near Green Camp attired in a white organdy dress with a full tiered skirt was flower girl.

A reception at the bride's home followed the wedding ceremony.

The couple are graduates of Ohio State University.

They will spend their honeymoon at Pocono Mountain Inn in Cresco, Pa. A traveling suit of navy blue linen with white accessories was worn by Mrs. Roettger when they departed after the reception.

Ensign and Mrs. Roettger will be located in Boston, Mass., until the middle of August. They will make their home in Key West, Fla., after Sept. 1.

The wedding was attended by Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Roettger Sr., and son, John, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and daughter Carol of near Green Camp.

Service Couple Exchange Vows In Marion Ceremony

Marriage vows were exchanged by two members of U.S. Army Air Force services last Thursday morning here when A 2/c Jane Kull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kull of near Marion became the bride of A 1/c Robert V. Toot. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Toot of Canfield, O. Both the bride and bridegroom are stationed at Scott Air Force Base near Bellville, Ill.

The maid of honor, also a member of the Air Force, was A 2/c Charlene Cory of Buffalo, N. Y. Fred Kull of Marion, brother of the bride, served as best man.

The double ring ceremony was read at Emanuel Lutheran Church by the pastor, the Rev. M. E. Hollensen, and the custom of closed church was observed.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white suit with which she combined a pale blue blouse and white accessories. The maid of honor was costumed in a blue suit with white accessories, and her corsage was of pink roses.

Guests included parents of the bridegroom, his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Toot, and their daughter of Warren, O., and the parents of the maid of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Cory of Buffalo.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The couple then left for a wedding trip in the Great Lakes area.

Both the bride and her husband have been in service two years, and are scheduled for two more years of duty in the Air Force. She was graduated from Claridon High School in 1946 and before entering service she was at the Millard Hunt Appliance Store Inc. in Marion where she opened and operated the record department.

The couple will live at Belleville while stationed at Scott Air Force Base.

Miss Ruth Turner Installed President of Altrusa Club

MISS RUTH TURNER

Officers, headed by Miss Ruth Turner as president, were installed when the Marion Altrusa Club closed the 1952-53 season Tuesday evening at Hotel Harding. Installation ceremonies, conducted by Miss Ruth Kramer, a past International Altrusa president, were preceded by a dinner and program. Guests on the program were members of The Marion Serenaders, directed by L. G. Jones.

Serving with Miss Turner for the 1953-54 season will be: Miss Ferol Burley, vice president; Mrs. Katharine Smith, recording secretary; Miss Mary K. Stone, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary K. Mills, treasurer. Miss Mary Martha Luke was installed as a member of the board of directors for two years.

For the dinner the tables were lighted with tall white tapers and decorations were bouquets of summer flowers in varied colors. Favors were bottles of stick cologne, gifts of the Fellowship Committee. Joining the members for the evening were four 1953 graduates who were junior Altrusans this year and guests Mrs. Thomas McGrath of Sandusky, Miss Mary Mahaffey and Miss Suzanne Terzo. Junior Altrusans were Misses Shirley Fetter and Carol Sparks of Harding and Sharon Giles and Islea Beth Endicott of St. Mary High School.

Displayed for the members was the club's entry in the club project exhibit at the international convention to be held in Los Angeles, Calif. next year. The display, five colorful volumes, representing the club projects for the year, is mounted on a cleverly designed book stand. Projects included Liliputian, Pre-Teens, Upper Teens, Academic and Indian Summer.

For the program the Serenaders sang "Bless This House," "Prayer Perfect," "Holy Lord of All," There Is a Balm in Gilead," "Song of the Open Road," "The Donavians," "With a Hey and a Hi and a Ho, Ho, Ho," "Whiffenpoof Song" and "The Frog," and for an encore, "The Little Worm." Soloists were William Holloway and Robert Somerlot.

Miss Marie Wolf, retiring president, presided for the business session and Miss Ruth Kleinmaier was in charge of the program.

PIONEER COUNCIL MEETS

NEVADA — Pioneer Council Group No. 1 met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Armbruster southeast of Nevada. A discussion of "Whether Farms Desire Social Security" was an interest of the meeting.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Olive Mae Pickens, daughter of Mrs. Ernestine Joseph, 229½ N. Main St., and Airman 3/c Paul W. Slane, U. S. Air Force. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Slane, 749 Wilson Ave.

The wedding took place Saturday, May 20, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the Prospect Street Methodist Church. Only the immediate families attended and the pastor, the Rev. Evan Owens, officiated.

The bride was attired in a street length dress in a pastel green shade, trimmed with embroidery. She combined with this white accessories.

Early Sunday afternoon the couple left by automobile for Amarillo, Texas, where Pfc. Slane is stationed with the Air Force. He is attending a school for technical training on jet engines. Pfc. Slane just recently completed basic training at Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N.Y. He was a student at Harding High School when he entered service.

Inside Labor

Better Off at Home

By Victor Riesel

RIESEL

Where is our counter-offensive? Where are the millions of leaflets we should be pouring out of the skies above East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and the other seething satellites? Why do our professional propagandists, the men paid to sell us to the world, think capitalism is a dirty word?

Why do they feel so intellectually uncomfortable when they must tell the world that the average working Joe has the most freedom in this land of profits?

Why are our psychological warriors worried so much by those writers who believe that the ability to turn a phrase is license to turn their coats on this nation.

NOBODY has asked me, but if our propagandists really want a leaflet to shower down on the Soviet satellites which have just seen striking workers machine-gunned in the streets, I'd like to offer this:

Here in the U. S. you can strike even if you are stalling the production of nickel tubing for vital hydrogen bomb production, as the workers at a New York plant did earlier this year.

Unions are beginning to sign contracts for a one-year vacation with pay after 10 years of service, as did the AFL's dynamic Electrical Workers Brotherhood and the Hedco Manufacturing Corp. (radios and phonographs) of Chicago.

Picnics are written into contracts, as with John Lewis' District 50 and an eastern manufacturing Company.

The pact specifies that picnics shall be planned by a plant committee made up of management and union people. The plant shall be shut down on those outing days and the workers paid at regular rates.

IN THIS country an employe imprisoned for a crime not connected with his job is not automatically fired, nor are his seniority rights wiped out.

Under a CIO Steelworkers' contract with a midwestern steel corporation, the convict's case is discussed by the union and the company.

If the company wants to fire him, the jailed worker can file a grievance which is eventually arbitrated. The guilty employe usually retains his job rights to reemployment on the old basis. No slave labor camps here.

The CIO Auto and Steel Unions have signed contracts with a southern manufacturer which guarantee a minimum weekly wage for the life of the pacts, whether the workers put in a full week or not.

UNDER LAWS of New York State, a woman is eligible for unemployment insurance if she quits her job simply because she is not being paid the same rates as a man on the same job.

Under a contract between the CIO Communications Workers and the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., a man is paid not only when he is sick, but also when he is confined to his home on quarantine because of the contagious illness of one of his family.

Under the Soviet labor laws, the MVD would drag the worker to the plant or a slave camp. Da?

In this country members of the Communist party, openly dedicated to the overthrow of our system and government, lead at least 10 big unions in the heart of our meat packing industry, our cable communications system, our waterfront, our secret atomic and electronic plants.

They are protected by law; so they enjoy rights equal to those of George Meany, Walter Reuther and John L. Lewis.

A COMMUNIST union leader can refuse to tell authorities whether or not he used his union to spy on us. And he walks back to his union headquarters a free man.

Here, according to a survey by the National Industrial Conference Board — capitalists, you know — scores of company executives questioned on plant security, warned that there must be no "witch hunting" in the search for subversives. No innocent man should be hurt.

To the contrary, the Board found that these giant corporations "are trying, without hysteria, to locate those men on their payroll who, upon investigation, appear to be Communists or sympathizers."

If they are bad they are eliminated "if possible." Otherwise tey "are moved out of vital areas in the plant."

THERE IS MUCH talk of "blacklists," but the Conference Board reported on May 11 that "only a relatively small number of companies . . . have developed or maintain a file on local and national subversives and front groups . . . (and those who do maintain these) take careful compilation of facts not rumors."

Here no jobless little painter is picked up on the streets and executed, as happened in East Berlin uhder Soviet rule, which is supposed to be liberating workers and peasants.

Here, we are free.

How about you over there, comrade?

Admit Postoffice Should Be Closed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The case of the Postoffice at Hamlet, Clatsop County, Ore., is such that even the congressman from the district thinks it should be shut down.

Rep. Norblad (R-Ore) made public today a Post Office Department letter which said:

Except for the postmaster's family, all the patrons of the Postoffice have boxes on a route served from another Postoffice.

"A large majority of the money orders issued were purchased by the family of the postmaster."

Receipts of the Hamlet Postoffice in 1952 were $134.41. The postmaster's salary is $522.25, plus 15 per cent for rent, light, fuel and equipment.

Post Office officials asked Norblad whether he knew of any reason why the office shouldn't be closed. He said today he doesn't.

Wiley Asks FBI Probe "Smear" Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) says someone used an assumed name to make a "dastardly smear attack" on him and that he has asked the FBI to investigate.

Wiley blamed 40 telegrams he said were sent Wisconsin county Republican chairmen for spurring the State Republican Convention into adopting a resolution of censure against him. The Resolution criticized is opposition to a proposed constitutional amendment to limit treaty-making powers and his co-sponsoring of a bill to admit additional immigrants.

The Wisconsin senator told the Senate yesterday the telegrams were sent over the signature of the "Committee for Constitutional Government," but that the committee disavowed them, and that the sender gave a fictitious name, "Benjamin Coleman," to the Western Union.

The Committee for Constitutional Government, Inc., said it did not authorize and had no knowledge of the telegrams.

Erie employees of
invite you, your family and friends to
OPEN HOUSE
Tuesday, June 30 • 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

● Tuesday, June 30th is going to be a big day in Marion and you, your friends and family are invited to inspect Erie's new, enlarged diesel shop.

Erie has made the Marion Shop one of the most modern and efficient railroad shops in the country. We can say with pride that the Marion Diesel Shop is bigger and better than ever before!

The employees of the shop will act as guides in showing the new interesting features and the special machinery that helps in the repair and maintenance of Erie's big diesel locomotives.

This is a big day in Marion and one you will long remember. We hope you will bring your family and friends. Everybody is cordially welcome. There will be refreshments for all and souvenirs for the kiddies. We know everybody will have a good time.

Excess Profits Tax Extension Still Blocked

Rep. Reed Defies Eisenhower, Holds Bill in Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration marshaled strength today for a last-chance maneuver to try to stave off defeat in a battle to extend the excess profits tax.

The last resort, admittedly a drastic and almost unprecedented move, was to urge the House Rules Committee to bring a tax extension bill directly to the House floor.

This would bypass completely the House Ways and Means Committee, the oldest and one of the proudest of congressional committees, which traditionally must start all tax bills through Congress.

Ways and Means Chairman Daniel Reed (R-NY) and his supporters so far had emerged triumphant in a running fight with the administration. They had stopped cold a series of administration moves to get committee action on the tax proposal.

At best, the administration's chances seemed doubtful even in the rules committee. And the move there seemed certain to stir a battle over procedure that would rival in bitterness and tension the conflict over the tax issue itself.

The administration is making an all-out effort to extend for six more months the tax on corporation profits legally defined as abnormal. Eisenhower has insisted the government must have an estimated 800 million dollars involved to help reduce the federal deficit and to fight inflation.

Reed and others have insisted just as firmly that the tax is an "immoral" burden on some firms, especially small and growing businesses, and that more revenue would be raised by letting it die next Tuesday as scheduled.

Chairman Leo Allen (R-Ill) of the rules committee confidently told reporters his group would produce a victory for the administration on the issue and bring the extension to a House vote.

Council Hears Safety Man

The monthly meeting of the Industrial Safety Council of the Marion Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday at 11:45 a.m. at Hotel Harding.

Don Hanna, special advisor for the Safety and Hygiene Division of the Industrial Commission of Ohio, was the main speaker. His subject was "Hazards of Dust, Gasses and Oil."

Representatives of various firms in this area spoke on the types of accidents which had occured in their plants during May. Suggestions were then offered on ways to help prevent the specific types of accidents from recurring.

Fourteen firms in the Marion area were cited for having no lost time accidents in May. They were the Alloy Cast Steel Co., Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, Erie Railroad, New York Central System, Harding High Vocational Shop, Monsanto Chemical Co., Marion Engineer Depot, Ohio Edison Co., Huber Manufacturing Co., Arro Expansion Bolt Co., Marion Machine Tool, McMillen Feed Mills, and B. F. Goodrich Co.

Don Penry is chairman of the council. Allen Martin is vice chairman.

The committee started the Senate ball rolling on the Republican highway program Wednesday night by recommending for passage a House-approved bill to reenact a special license fee on trucks first approved by the 99th General Assembly. The bill, sponsored this session as last by Rep. Adrian B. Fink Jr., (R-Cuyahoga), produces about eight million dollars a year in highway funds. The tax averages about 33 per cent of normal license fees.

It also makes permanent a provision all trucks must use mudguards or fenders.

Also in the Republican legislative program are a penny-a-gallon increase in the gasoline and diesel fuel tax and a bill to distribute to cities, counties and townships some 11½ million dollars in funds now available to the highway department for road maintenance.

Legislative action Wednesday included:

Senate passage of a measure to increase maximum aid for the blind from $60 to $65 a month. The bill goes to the House.

Senate passage of a bill to create a legislative budget board to assist the finance committees of both houses in appraising appropriation recommendations. It also goes to the House.

House revival and passage of a bill to exempt until Jan. 1, 1956, villages of less than 5,000 population from the state law requiring elimination of stream pollution. The bill originally was defeated a week ago when it fell nine votes short of the needed majority.

House defeat of a Senate-approved bill to allow county commissioners to close courthouse on Saturdays.

Senate rejection of Gov. Frank J. Lausche's first veto of the legislative session. It was on a measure to permit the Cedar Point Bridge Co. to build a toll bridge across part of Sandusky Bay between Cedar Point and Sandusky. The House overrode the veto Tuesday. The Senate vote was 23-7.

House passage, without opposition, of a bill to increase state employees pay 5 per cent effective July 1. The bill goes to the Senate.

ial had come to be left in that portion of testimony sent for public printing.

Security cropped up on some odd subjects. There were "off the record" notations for discussions on such topics as the number of cigarettes for prisoners of war in Korea, a publicity release to businessmen on why they should support the National Guard, and feed for the courier pigeons of the Signal Corps.

The Army plugged hard for its atomic cannon during the testimony.

Maj. Gen. Kenneth D. Nichols, chief of Army research and development, emphasized need for Army atomic capabilities on the battlefield, with both the gun and guided missiles armed with atomic warheads. He asserted:

"All the studies which we have made indicate that whether we can or cannot defend Europe with the amount of manpower and number of divisions which we are able to support, may depend on whether we can achieve this atomic capability."

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, for his part, replied to some criticism of the gun, including questions about its mobility because of weight.

He said, among other things, that it isn't true a special bridge would be needed for river crossings, that the 280-millimeter can "cross any bridge that a medium tank can cross."

The gun, together with the two motor tractors that haul it, weighs 85 tons.

Army witnesses said the over-all Army cost for the March 17 to May 25 atomic test in Nevada was set at $2,857,000. For the atomic cannon test, the cost (less that of the shell) totaled $165,200.

Strip Thousands More Jobs of Civil Service Protection

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today stripped civil service protection from additional thousands of federal jobs.

The President signed an executive order for a review of about 134,000 federal positions to determine which should no longer be under civil service.

It will be possible for the new Republican administration to put its own appointees into places taken out from under civil service.

Of the jobs to be surveyed, 66,000 are in the United States and 68,000 are overseas.

Chairman Philip Young of the Civil Service Commission said earlier this week it was impossible to say at that time just how many of the 134,000 jobs would be affected by the Eisenhower order, but he left no doubt the total would be several thousands.

Marion Man Sentenced On Forgery Charge

A sentence of one to twenty years in the Ohio State Penitentiary was imposed on W. J. Meyer, 27, of 593 N. Main St., Wednesday in Common Pleas Court.

The sentence was handed down by Judge Paul D. Smith after Meyer changed his plea to guilty on three counts of forgery. After being indicted May 15 by the grand jury on the three counts, Meyer pleaded not guilty.

Meyer was arrested again Monday on charges of passing a bad check and auto theft. In Municipal Court he pleaded guilty to the first charge, and not guilty to the second charge.

He was represented yesterday by a court-appointed attorney, Frank W. Phillips.

Liquor Board Member Dies

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Mrs. Maude McQuate, 73, the second woman to serve as a member of the state liquor board, died today from a stroke in a Columbus hospital.

She entered the hospital last Thursday.

Mrs. McQuate was a Republican, but a Democrat, a fellow Clevelander, Gov. Frank J. Lausche, was so impressed with her work he appointed her a member of the liquor board Feb. 19, 1945. She served as chairman of the board in 1946, but resigned in 1947 to allow the new governor, Republican Thomas Herbert, to name his own chairman.

She was reappointed by Lausche in 1949.

Mrs. McQuate had served as president of the Cleveland Civil Service Commission, vice chairman of the Cleveland Library Board, a member of te Cleveland City Hospital, Advisory Board, a trustee of Cleveland Child Health Association, and president of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. McQuate's husband, Benjamin, died in 1944. Their one daughter died last year.

State St. after he ran over a firehose running from a hydrant on the east side of the street across the street and through an alley at the rear of the Marion Hotel to S. Main St.

Police Inhalator Used

Use of the police department inhalator at last night's fire marked the third time it has been used this month to supplement fire department inhalator equipment.

Police Chief Coon said this was the most it has been used in any one-month period since it was donated to the police department some five years ago by the Exchange Club.

Normally, fire department equipment is adequate, but the police department inhalator "comes in mighty handy" at major fires to help revive smoke-exhausted firemen, Chief Coon said.

So far this month it has been necessary to use the inhalator at the Wilson Furniture Co. fire, the Erie Freight Station and Betty Zane Corn Products Co. fires, and last night's fire, he added.

Bus Catches Fire

Firemen were summoned Wednesday at 6:25 p.m. to the 200 block of S. Main St. where a short circuit in the wiring of a city bus, belonging to the Marion Transit Inc., caused a $25 fire. Several cushions on the bus were scorched, in addition to burning grease around the motor, firemen said.

Delaware Youth Heads Kiwanis Circle K Group

Special to The Star

DELAWARE — Kenneth Creasy, of Delaware, was elected first president of the newly-established international organization of Circle K at the 38th convention of Kiwanis International in New York City. Circle K is the Kiwanis College Organization.

Creasy, a sophomore at Ohio Wesleyan University, is public relations director for the Ohio Wesleyan chapter. The Wesleyan group is the only Circle K group in Ohio at the present time and was established in the spring of 1952.

George Gauthier, of Delaware, who was appointed by International Kiwanis to serve on a Circle K advisory committee, said Creasy has received one of the highest honors possible for a college boy.

First Circle K chapter was founded in Pullman, Washington, in 1936. There are now 53 groups in the country but Gauthier added that six Circle K organizations are ready to be established in Ohio alone by fall.

The Wesleyan chapter has been very active. Creasy is the Ohio college champion debater. He is a playground supervisor in Delaware this summer.

Lyon

yesterday asked Eisenhower to withdraw Lyon's name after the appointee requested such action. McKay did so in the wake of Lyon's testimony before a Senate committee that he is: (1) drawing a $5,000-a-year pension as a retired official of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company, and (2) is opposed to the federal mine safety law he would administer as Mines Bureau chief.

It developed that Interior Department officials had been unaware of either the pension or Lyon's views regarding the law.

Those disclosures reduced his chances of confirmation to near zero.

Government officials who asked not to be named said Eisenhower is having the entire episode investigated and that a sharp rebuke quite likely will be dealt out to those who failed to give him a full report on Lyon's background.

There was no certainty where the blame would fall. Some White House officials were said to feel McKay would have to take the rap.

At the Interior Department, on the other hand, Assistant Secretary Felix E. Wormser said Lyon's nomination was sponsored by Republican Sen. Watkins of Utah, from whose state Lyon comes.

Watkins said it was inconceivable to him that the Truman administration appointed Lyon to a job directly connected with metal mining without first investigating the kind of pension he is getting.

Lyon is acting deputy administrator of the Defense Materials Procurement Agency. Since January, 1951, he has held important jobs either in DMPA or in the Defense Minerals Administration.

The Government Services Agency, of which DMPA is a part, said regulations do not require full-time employes to reveal the source of their outside income. Lyon said his pension is part of his official government file and that he has never concealed any outside income.

He told close friends he plans to leave his present government job the end of June. He was described as "horribly upset."

the altar. Candles in candelabra were lighted by Miss Nancy Ackley, sister of the bridegroom. A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Cecil Davis, organist.

The bride was attired in a ballerina length gown of white chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The fitted basque bodice of lace had a high round neckline, the yoke being of net with lace insets, and the long sleeves ended in points over the hands. Layers of nylon tulle, inset with tiers of chantilly lace, formed the bouffant skirt. Her fingertip length veil was caught to a heart-shaped half bonnet of net and lilies of the valley. She carried a white Bible topped with white and pink roses and showered with streamers. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Willis Moler. Her gown was ballerina length in a pink shade.

Timothy Ackley of Columbus, cousin of the bridgroom, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at The Trees on Delaware Ave. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the table. When the couple left on a short wedding trip, Mrs. Ackley was wearing a white linen suit with black and white accessories.

Mrs. Ackley is a graduate of Morral High School with the class of 1953. Mr. Ackley, a graduate of Morral High School in 1952, is engaged in farming.

At the rehearsal, the couple presented gifts to their attendants.

Announcement is being made of the wedding of Miss Loretta Pemberton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton P. Pemberton of Morral, and Dan Harrison Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Andrews of 444 E. Center St., June 13.

The ceremony took place at 2:30 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church with the pastor, the Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, officiating.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Harry T. Williams, organist and lighting the candles was the bride's sister, Miss Inez Pemberton. Decorations on the altar were lighted candles and a bouquet of white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. The dress, styled with a halter neckline, had long sleeves and completing her costume was a lace jacket. Her fingertip length veil of matching lace fell from a tiara trimmed in crystal petals and her bouquet was of shattered white carnations.

Miss Joan Anderson, who was the maid of honor, wore a ballerina-length gown of yellow tulle made with a scoop neckline and cap sleeves. Her flowers were pink and white carnations.

The bridegroom's brother, James L. Andrews, was the best man and Roger and Richard Andrews, also brothers, and Richard Reiff and Joe Buettin were ushers.

A reception, at which Miss Shannon Dunn and Miss Beverly Norton served, followed the ceremony and later the couple left on a wedding trip to Lake Erie. They are making their home in Apartment 15, Elite Apartments until fall when they will go to Oxford where the bridegroom is a junior at Miami University. Mrs. Andrews will be employed in the athletic department of the university. Both are graduates of Harding High School.

Load of Ammunition Wrecked, Village Sweats Out Explosion

BIG ROCK, Ill. (AP)—A tractor-trailer loaded with tons of military high explosives and torpedo warheads and a cargo truck of merchandise collided Wednesday. No one was hurt.

But Albert H. Beck, justice of the peace, said: "It's just a miracle this whole town (population 300) wasn't blown to kingdom come. We still don't know how we escaped an explosion that would have wiped us right off the map."

A side of each truck was torn off in the impact. Explosives and gasoline from a pierced tank spilled onto busy U. S. 30, which runs down the main street of this Northern Illinois town about 40 miles southwest of Chicago.

Both drivers leaped from their cabs and dashed into a field—a safe distance from the fire and explosion they expected. A state policeman said both drivers cut the ignition of their trucks immediately. The gasoline did not burn.

Donald R. Elston, 26, Moline, Ill., driving the truckload of merchandise, was charged with driving on the wrong side of the highway and was fined $25 by Justice Beck.

"He seemed to be glad to pay it," Beck said. "I guess he figured he was just lucky to be alive."

Bernard Newman, 28, Ironton, O., remained in Big Rock with his truck of explosives awaiting arrival of a federal government inspector.

Lynn Aplanalp, San Jose State quarterback, once threw six touchdown passes in one game while in Wilson (Los Angeles) High School.

Suspect Cleared In Bank Holdup

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — Ohio County Sheriff Thomas B. Patton says Joe E. Lee, 48, an East Liverpool, O., bartender, has been eliminated as a suspect in the $6,700 holdup at the suburban Bank of Warwood.

Lee, who disappeared Tuesday from the boarding house where he stayed, had been sought in connection with Tuesday's holdup. Sheriff Patton said Lee went to Huntington, W. Va., Tuesday and "it would have been a physical impossibility for Lee to have been involved in the robbery because of the time element."

Police became suspicious of Lee when Ben Kapalansky of Steubengille, manager of the bar where Lee worked, reported $2,800 was missing from the tavern safe. Kapallansky signed a warrant charging Lee with embezzlement. He said only he and Lee knew the safe's combination.

Tuesday, a man entered the Bank of Warwood, herded five employes and two customers behind teller's cages at gun point and then relieved an entering messenger of a canvas bag containing $6,700.

Police Report Good Lead On Canton Killing

CANTON, O. (AP) — What police described as a "good lead" has come out of the questioning of dozens of men in the gangland-style execution Sunday night of John (Little Nick) Nickles, one-time local gambling king.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Ray Nunamaker said nothing further about the tip. The names of those questioned have been withheld.

Nickles, born in Greece 58 years ago and christened Nicholas Farassopoulas, was buried Wednesday. About 350 persons went to his funeral at the St. Haralampos Greek Orthodox Church. Not one of his racket associates was among the mourners carrying candles.

Five safes owned by Nickles were opened by a safe expert Wednesday. Like the papers and personal effects sifted Tuesday, they produced nothing helpful in solving the mystery of the slaying, police said.

Cardington Class Of 1949 Holds Reunion

The Cardington High School graduating class of 1949 held a reunion at the home of Miss Helen Holland Saturday night.

A picnic supper was followed by an organization meeting at which following officers were elected: Roger Edwards, president; Mrs. Reba Rogers, vice president; Mrs. Jeanne Conant, secretary; and Miss Gloria Weaver, reporter. The program committee will be Mrs. Darlene Heimlich, Mrs. Janice Kelly and Miss Helen Holland.

It was decided that the month of June be set for the annual reunion. Members of the class were asked to notify the secretary, Miss Jeanne Conant, of their address and the addresses of other members of the class.

Members present were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Heimlich and Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kelly and Kevin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Davis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ebert and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Conant and Sherry, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Geckley and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Burns and sons, Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers and Lindy, Miss Helen Holland, Miss Gloria Weaver, Roger Edwards, Harold Bean and Wayne Levering.

Richwood WSCS Holds Guest Day Program

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD—The WSCS of the First Methodist Church held its annual June meeting with a rose tea and guest day.

The Samaritan Circle of the society entertained the Shining Cross Circle and other guests. The president Mrs. Ernest Fish presided and welcomed guests. The invocation and devotion service were given by Mrs. L. F. Davis whose theme was the Book of Jeremiah.

Miss Margaret Ann Riley played a piano solo, and was pianist for vocal selections presented by a trio, composed of Mrs. Aaron Durnell, Mrs. L. J. McCoy and Mrs. James Endsley. A guest, Mrs. A. E. Shuman of Des Moines, Iowa, sang one number accompanied by Miss Riley.

The guest speakers were two district officers, Mrs. William Torbert and Mrs. C. E. Hullman of Tremont City, O.

Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. Agnes Drake, Mrs. Letha Hendershott, Miss Mary Hendershott and Mrs. William LeMasters of Marion, Mrs. Dewey Hines and Mrs. John Skidmore of West Mansfield and Mrs. Barbara Evans of Jacksonville, Fla. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kenneth Van Zant and her committee.

Picked Ambassador To Jamboree

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Lt. Gov. John W. Brown today will commission Eagle Scout Bob Westenbarger of 839 Pleasant Rd., Lancaster, ambassador from his office to the National Boy Scout Jamboree.

Westenbarger, 16, also holds the rank of junior assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 15 and senior crew leader of Explorer Post 115.

The commission will be presented in Brown's office at 3 p.m. for the jamboree in Santa Ana, Calif., July 17-23.

Teaching Urge Came Early

To Mt. Gilead Woman Ending Career

MT. GILEAD "SCHOOL MARM," Miss Bessie Beckley, is shown with two of her first grade pupils, Jerry Corbin and Pam Geyer, during the last class session this year at the school. Miss Beckley, who had taught 1,000 or more Morrow County children during her 46-year teaching career, announced her resignation effective at the end of this school year.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD—"It has been a difficult task for me to retire from the teaching profession," says Miss Bessie Beckley, who announced her retirement at the Mt. Gilead School, this year, after 46 years of teaching.

"I love the work so much! I have been thinking of retiring for several years but could not make up my mind to quit."

In appreciation of a life work well done, members of the Mt. Gilead faculty and board of education presented the veteran first grade teacher with a gold wrist watch; the PTA gave her a table lamp; and the student council and girl reserves gave corsages to Miss Beckley and her mother at a recent dinner in her honor.

When Bessie was 7 years old, a neighbor inquired, "What do you want to do when you grow up?" She replied, "I want to teach school if I ever know enough!"

Bessie was enrolled at Pompey school district, in Lincoln Township, three miles south of Cardington, where her mother, Mrs. John S. Beckley, had attended school. The Beckley family later moved to Sparta where the school girl completed the Boxwell-Patterson examination to enter Sparta High School after studying at Fairview School. One of her teachers, Mrs. Frank Austin, still resides there. "I always liked my teachers and I think lots of her!" confided the former pupil.

Miss Beckley launched her teaching career in 1905, then made up credits for the fourth year in high school by studying and reading the Ohio Teacher Reading Circle Books, a few years later. Her first school was the Gardner School District, southeast of Cardington where her father formerly attended. Among her pupils were three of her brothers and two sisters.

During the year of 1909, the Beckleys moved to a farm home north of Mt. Gilead on the Iberia Rd. where Miss Beckley taught from 1912-1914 at the Bailey, Maple Grove and Davis Schools in Gilead and Washington Townships.

The Cardington board of education offered Miss Beckley a contract in 1914 and she accepted to teach eight years in the village school system. In 1922 she transferred to the Mt. Gilead Exempted School District where she continued to teach until retirement.

A teacher's life certificate was given her in 1926 after 20 years of teaching service. The veteran teacher's work has been confined to the first three grades in the village schools and to eight grades in the rural schools. Since 1931, her instruction has been in the first grade only, a total of 21 years, with 31 years being spent in the Mt. Gilead system.

"There is a greater change in the child's life in the first grade than in any other. It surely is an important grade," said Miss Beckley, who studied at Defiance College, Bowling Green State University and was graduated at Ashland Normal.

"Here these little folks get the foundation for their educational life! It is a wonderful development period where they learn so much. It is really marvelous what the children get in one year. They learn to read fluently in children's books, learn to write, have started spelling, counting and learn numbers."

"There are a lot of little things parents can do before their child starts to the first grade," stated Miss Beckley. "It is helpful to teach them to count, to converse, to tell them stories, and read them rhymes. The important thing is to teach them to mind and to mingle with other children. They should get away from home and parents on occasion."

Church work has been the greatest hobby for the retired teacher who assisted with the Mt. Gilead Daily Vacation Bible School. She is a member of the First Baptist Church, where she has acted as primary and junior superintendent for the past 35 years.

"I'll find plenty to do," said Miss Beckley regarding the future. She lives at home with her mother, Mrs. John S. Beckley, 92. She plans to do substitute teaching, keep up her churchwork along with crocheting, tatting and sewing hobbies.

Miss Beckley took time to contrast the old educational systems with the new. "The new reading methods of today are far superior to the old methods. The pupils enjoy it more. It is more interesting and not so mechanical. Of course there are constant changes and research and sometimes we must go back to past proven methods."

For 46 years Miss Bessie Beckley has imbedded the foundation of learning to 1,000 or more Morrow County children who are now found in all walks of life.

"I would not advise anyone to teach unless they love children," suggests the retiring lady instructor. "I love to see them develop and grow."

Sycamore Couple To Note 50th Year

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY—On Saturday, June 27, Mr. and Mrs. Martha Funk of Sycamore, will be married 50 years and will celebrate their golden anniversary with an open house reception for friends and relatives at their home on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Funk was the former Eliza Price. They were married in Tiffin on June 27, 1903, and have lived in the vicinity of Tiffin and Sycamore their entire lives. Mr. Funk was engaged in farming until his retirement several years ago.

They are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Alden of Sycamore; Mrs. Laura Stuckey of Old Fort and Mrs. Mable Ziegler of Bloomville. They also have ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

REUNIONS

BELT

The 37th annual Belt reunion was held Sunday, June 21, Garfield Park. Thirty members were in attendance and a picnic dinner was held at noon. Officers were elected for the next two years. They are J. H. Belt, president; Aubrey Thompson, vice president, and Ruth Bilsing, secretary-treasurer. The next reunion will be held at Garfield Park the fourth Sunday in June 1954.

Holds Down Job In Fire Dept. From Wheel Chair

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard Foley is a paraplegic veteran confined to a wheelchair but he is also a member of the fire department of Needham, Mass.

The Veterans Administration told his story today.

Foley was hit in the spine by shrapnel in combat in Europe during World War II. After two years in Army hospitals, he was discharged in a wheelchair in 1948. He was paralyzed from the waist down for life.

He attended a business school, under the V. A.'s program for disabled veterans.

He is now what is called a permanent houseman—handles correspondence, keeps records and performs innumerable other duties.

When there's a fire, he stays on duty in the firehouse. Before Foley went to work, an able-bodied fireman had to stay behind.

Foley was born and reared in Stamford, Conn.

2 OHIOANS NOMINATED

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday nominated Charles White of Cleveland, president of Republic Steel Co., and Richard J. Gray of Ohio and Washington, D. C., president of the AFL building and construction trades department, to be members of an advisory board for the Postofice Department.

Lending Helping Hand to Vacationers

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—People going on vacation usually like to get away from it all—jangling trolley bells and such.

In this respect, the Altoona & Logan Valley Electric Railway is lending a helping hand to 10,000 shop employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad who start a mass two-week vacation July 4.

The employes, even if they visit the business section, won't be bothered by trolley noises, the railway company says. Most of its trolley business comes from PRR workers who use streetcars to go to work. So, during their vacation, the trolley lines will shut down and buses only will be used.

Writer Says People Change When They Drive Auto

Traffic Toll Traced to Lack of Courtesy

By RELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—If the facts and figures could ever be compiled, I believe it would be found that most traffic accidents are not the result of speed, lack of judgment, drinking, or driving with one arm around a doll.

Each of these undoubtedly contributes to the grand total.

But, in my book, the top cause for tragedy on the highway is plain lack of courtesy.

Something queer seems to happen to many people when they get behind the wheel of an automobile. The same man who will politely hold the door for a lady, or struggle to get his hat off in a crowded elevator, takes a strictly the-hell-with-you-jack attitude once he starts down the road in a jalopy. Anybody know why?

For one thing, I suppose, there is a sense of power. To be able to direct a couple hundred horses and two tons of metal engender a sense of release.

There are many people today who feel frustrated, insecure, and inadequate for this harsh world. For them, perhaps, an automobile is the great equalizer.

The little man who takes a beating in his office, and will be nagged and pushed around by the bride when he gets home, is on even terms with princes and potentates once he starts down the road.

All the inferiorities, suppressed emotions, and plain spite seem to surface then. This, I think, is the explanation for the commoner forms of highway nuisances, to wit:

The road-runner—This is the guy who can't stand having anybody in front of him. If you start to pass him, he will speed up. Or, he will pass you, then drop to his normal cruising speed, which is usually somewhat slower than yours. Better let him stay in front; he will only race you to the next curve otherwise.

The eyes-front-only bird—He has a rear view mirror above the windshield, one on each door and two more on the fenders. But they are solely for decoration. He never uses them. Thus, on a crowded parkway, rolling at 50-plus, he will start out of his lane without a second thought. Sometimes he never lives to have another, either—but neither does the driver beside him.

The corner-cutter — Center lines on the highway mean nothing to him. Taking a curve, he is too lazy to keep from drifting across into the lane of traffic going the other way. May he rest in peace under that quiet headstone.

The straddler — Usually, this is a dear old lady who can't quite make up her mind. Sometimes, she isn't so old either. For one reason or another, women drivers tend to resent highway lanes. They will get the white line running squarely under the middle of the car, and hold that course, grimly. No amount of horn blowing moves them over, and it is worth your life to try to pass on the right. Nothing can be done about it.

The time-is-money driver—He is waiting to come on the parkway. There isn't another car behind you for three miles, but does he wait? He does not. He glares over his shoulder, guns the motor, grits his teeth and roars out in front of you. From his point of view, it's strictly your problem at that point.

Space does not permit listing all the menaces.

Some people, of course, are just naturally bad drivers, with poor coordination, slow reflexes, or faulty eyesight. A true driving test—and few cities have them—would bring out these handicaps.

But the tests today do not show whether a man or woman will exercise common courtesy on the road. Or whether he is likely to air the grudges and complexes he acquired elsewhere by acting like an oaf in traffic.

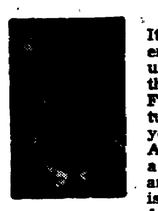
LET'S ORDER SOME FISH, IT'S BRAIN FOOD



It's funny how ideas get around. For years on end, many people have thought that fish stimulated our brain cells. Let's be practical about this old idea. In Asia and the countries in the Far Pacific most of the people have for centuries eaten fish like we eat bacon. Would you say these people are any smarter than Americans? Fish are easily digested, they are a favorite summer food, they are not costly, and a good chef can turn out a fish meal that is perfect. This is fish dinner headquarters for Ohio.

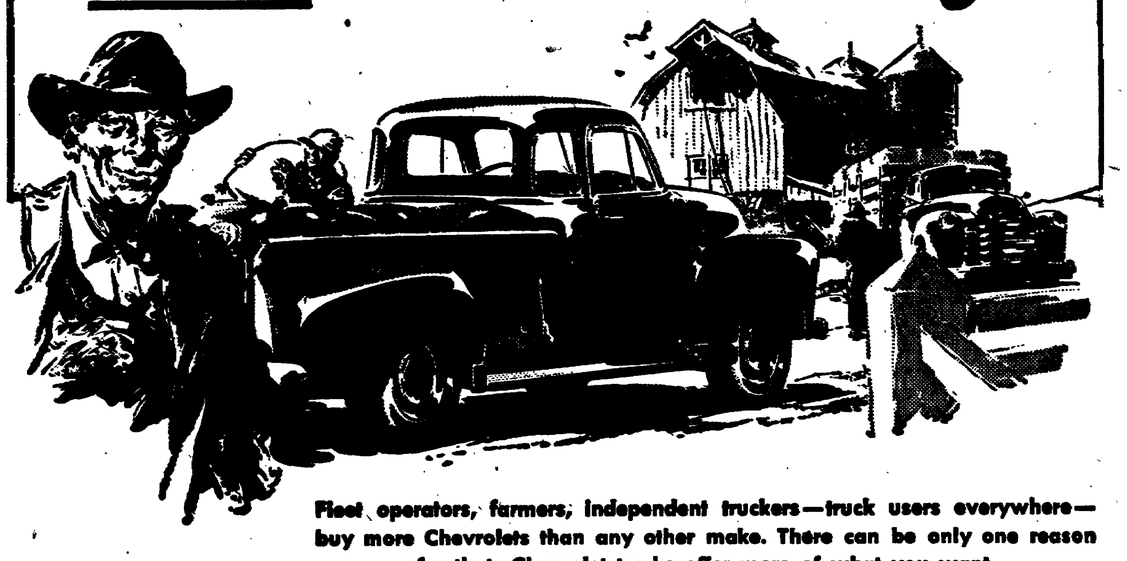
There's only one answer...

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!



Fleet operators, farmers, independent truckers—truck users everywhere—buy more Chevrolets than any other make. There can be only one reason for that: Chevrolet trucks offer more of what you want.

CHEVROLET

first in demand in value in sales

As the official registration figures keep rolling in, they keep telling the same positive story about truck popularity and truck value: Again in 1953, for the twelfth straight production year, truck buyers show a clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks.

If you're a truck user, this fact is mighty important to you. Why? Well, as you know, trucks are built and bought for just one reason—to do a job. So isn't it logical then that since Chevrolet trucks outsell all others, they must do a better job at lower cost?

That's why it will pay you to stop in and see us before you buy your next truck.

3. The Farm Fight and You

Possible Split in Farm Plan Leadership Seen

(Editor's Note: A churchman and two politicans make up the high command in the administration's battle to work out a new farm program for American agriculture. In this third article of four, two AP reporters predict the generals may reach a parting of the ways in the months ahead.)

By OVID MARTIN and DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three men—a churchman and two politicians—hold the key positions today in the administration fight to carry out President Eisenhower's campaign promise of a new farm program for American agriculture. But this high command may be split wide open in the months ahead.

The churchman is Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture and long-time leader in the Mormon church. The politicians are Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee and Clifford R. Hope (R-Kan), chairman of House Agriculture Committee.

These three are, in effect, the ranking Republican generals in the farm world's civil war—a conflict centering around the administration's ideas on the best way to increase and stabilize farm income.

Their strategy and leadership will determine in large measure the kind of program Congress will adopt when the present law requiring fixed high support prices for basic crops expires next year. The basics are wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts.

But in the showdown fight, Eisenhower may find one of his generals at odds with the other two. And here's why:

Benson and Aiken are in strong agreement that the fixed high support price program developed under the Truman administration should be changed to a program of flexible price supports. But Hope—who comes from a wheat state—is waving a "go slow" signal.

Where Benson and Aiken are highly critical of the present high-level supports, Hope thinks this program has worked well and that support programs should be extended where possible to other crops.

As yet, Benson and his aides have developed no specific recommendations on a new program, and none are likely before fall.

But Benson has outlined a fairly clear picture of the direction in which he wants to go and there is every indication he has the full support of President Eisenhower.

On price supports, he said recently:

"I doubt very much if any government can, by high, rigid supports, prevent some adjustment in prices, unless we step from one commodity to the next and then to the next, until finally we have control of all of them. When we have that, we will practically have state socialism, and I do not believe that farmers want that any more than you do or I do."

Benson believe high price supports tend to "freeze" crop production.

Judging from Benson's speeches, policy statements, interviews, and testimony before congressional groups, he favors in general a program that runs in this direction:

1. Flexible price supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a return estimated to be fair to both the farmer and the consumer. Under this flexibility, supports could be lowered to discourage overproduction, or raised to encourage shifts to needed crops.

2. A greater voice for farmers and commodity groups in drafting programs to fit their particular needs. This would mean, Benson says, decentralizing federal control with emphasis on controls at the state and county level.

3. Expanded efforts through private enterprise and government to build up foreign markets which have been sagging badly in the past year. This would call for expanded sales efforts and efforts to remove trade barriers at home and abroad.

4. Shifting to the Agriculture Department some of the authority and responsibility now held by the State Department in the field of foreign trade policies.

6. A concentrated effort by government, farmers and food handlers to find ways to cut marketing costs. Costs have risen sharply in recent years and cut deeply into the farmer's share of the consumer dollar spent for food.

7. The possible wider use of marketing agreements, price insurance and a two-price system for exports. The two-price system would mean one price at home and a world price that would seek its competitive level in foreign markets.

Aiken stands close to Benson in the fight and the senator says farm sentiment is swinging toward the administration views.

He insists the administration is not going to abandon any part of the present farm program "until we find something better." But he is confident something better can be found.

Benson, in recent speeches and statements also has promised that he will seek no changes in the present program until something is found that will "do better" by farmers.

Aiken was asked why it was he and other administration leaders favor a flexible price support plan now when the flexible plan of the 1930s wasn't considered a success.

"In those days," he said, "price supports were fixed at 50 to 75 per cent of parity. But this support couldn't be given until prices dropped to a trouble point. The program was designed to get us out of trouble, rather than to keep out of trouble."

He added that supports in the '30s were held to less than 60 per cent of parity and were kept close to the minimum allowed by law.

As a result, he said, Congress began thinking in terms of a program "that would keep us out of trouble" and he added that is the thinking that will prevail in any new program that is developed.

Aiken argues that any program must be constantly changing to meet new conditions.

"If you should write a law and say you will guarantee farmers 90 to 100 per cent of parity, you'll have to break the law sooner or later," he said. "But this administration is dedicated to a prosperous agriculture, and we'll use whatever means it takes, if it's support at 90 per cent or whatever is needed."

Over on the House side, Hope takes a more cautious attitude than Aiken toward change in the present farm program and he believes the mood of Congress right now is "don't move too fast" toward change.

Hope certainly isn't the outspoken supporter of the Eisenhower-Benson ideas that Aiken has been. And it is known he is not convinced a flexible support system for basic crops would bring about the desired shifts in production—unless the incentive to farmers was a support price higher than 90 per cent of parity.

In one of his farm-state speeches Hope made this point: "I believe that during 1953-54 Congress should restudy all of our price support programs with a view of making those which are now in operation more effective if possible, and of extending them where possible to other commodities.

"In saying this I want to make it perfectly clear that I do not think we should give up any program which is working at least reasonably well until we are sure we have something better to take its place."

Later this summer, Hope will head a group from the House Agriculture Committee which will visit the farm regions to get first-hand views from farmers.

In all this battle, the weather and the still-silent voice of the general public are factors which could scramble the best-laid plans. Both are unpredictable.

Tomorrow: Two unpredictable—the weather and public opinion—may prove to be decisive factors in the farm world's civil war.

Rebekah Lodge Conducts Memorial

Memorial service honoring Mrs. Carrie Phelps and Mrs. Ella Evans, whose deaths occurred recently, were conducted at a meeting of Sosnowski Rebekah Lodge Tuesday night. Readings were given by Mrs. Helen Johnson, Mrs. Lucille Predmore and Mrs. Agnes Starner, and Mrs. Edna Griffith and Mrs. Edna Shetterly sang, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Fout. Memory flowers were placed on the altar by Mrs. Geneva Miller and Mrs. Belle Roberts.

Plans were discussed for the school of instruction to be held at Caledonia Thursday, July 2. Mrs. Mary Cooper of Caledonia, president of District 29, will preside. A contribution of $10 was made to improvements at the Odd Fellows Home in Springfield. Announcement was made of a potluck supper to be held by the Past Noble Grands Club Wednesday, July 1, at the home of Mrs. Fleta Hankel on S. Prospect St.

NEVADA — Installation of new Nevada Lions Club officers was held last week when the club met at the Bow and Arrow restaurant at Upper Sandusky. Installed were: Luther Lust, president; Edwin Ritterspach, first vice president; Homer Berkley, second vice president; Alfred Eles, third vice president; Leo Keller, secretary; Jack Christensen, treasurer; Frank McMillen, Lion tamer and tail twister; Eugene Larick, C. M. Coons, O. E. Neuman and Irvin Tschantz, directors.

Marion Lions Club member, George Pleiderer, had charge of the installation.

Membership keys were presented to Homer Berkley, Jack Christensen, Floyd Grubel and Irvin Tschantz. Committees were appointed by President Lust.

Regular meetings of the Lions Club have been suspended during the summer months.

Parade, Band Concerts, Fireworks Display, Dancing Scheduled

Prospect Plans Three-Day Sesqui Celebration

A three - day sesquicentennial celebration at Prospect July 2, 3 and 4 will feature some 16 different events including parades, band concerts, a fireworks display, a folk festival, and a ball game.

Mrs. Nora Herr, general chairman of the sesquicentennial committee, said the celebration will get underway with a parade at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Included in the parade will be some 16 floats, three bands, a 100-year-old buckboard buggy, some five or six early model automobiles, and a number of other units.

Verne I. Mounts American Legion Post 368 will be in charge of the parade and Fred Issler will be parade marshal. Post commander is John Lauer.

Riding in places of honor at the head of the parade will be Prospect Mayor William F. Lowry, members of the village council, municipal light board members, and school board members.

Sesquicentennial Queen Barbara Pine's float will also occupy a prominent place in the parade. Riding on this float also will be the six queen attendants. They are Joyce Brewer, Judi Long, Jo-Anne Roberts, Alma Shepherd, Marilyn Carr, and Jane Ball.

Bob Rodgers, king for the three day affair, will also ride on a special float in the parade.

Other Floats

Other floats which will occupy prominent places in the parade will be those for Geraldine Landon as "Miss Ohio," Sally Skinner as "Miss America," Nevin Shuey as "Uncle Sam," one for former Prospect queens, Mrs. Paul Dobberstein and Mrs. Clifford Bland, a Child Conservation League Delta Club float, two Boy Scout floats, 4-H Club float, and one prepared by all Prospect churches.

Merchants, civic, and fraternal organizations are sponsoring the remaining six or more floats which will be in the parade. Bands taking part will be the Prospect, Pleasant and Radnor School bands.

Among the early model cars — which are being provided by Delaware residents—will be one 1910 model Ford with the others about the same age, Mrs. Herr said.

Other units in the parade will include a group of grade school boys and girls riding tricycles, another group of older children on bikes, and still a third group riding horses and ponies.

Following the parade the Prospect and Pleasant School bands will present a concert in a roped off area in the shopping district. Band directors are George Reed and Charles Toms.

Also on Thursday evening a public auction sale will be held in the downtown section. Auctioneer John Pfarr Jr. will serve as auctioneer in the sale of various items donated by merchants and residents.

Mrs. Herr said that the purpose of the sesqui celebration in Prospect is not only to honor Ohio's 150th birthday, but to raise funds for establishment of a community center and to provide entertainment for the youth of the community.

Will Improve Opera House

All proceeds from the auction sale, various concessions, and other events will be used to remodel the inside of the old opera house into a community center and to black-top a portion of the Prospect Community Park for summer recreation use. Plans call for the proposed community center to be equipped for both square dancing and roller skating. The paved portion of the park will be equipped for outdoor dancing, roller skating, tennis and shuffle board.

A concession stand in the downtown area will be operated Thursday by the Knights of Columbus and Pythian Sisters lodges. Dwight Holt will be in charge.

Events on Friday will begin at 1 p.m. with a folk festival on the Propect School grounds honoring the queen and king and the queen's attendants.

Included in the festival will be a play by by fifth and sixth grades. Title of the play—which will be directed by Mrs. Martha Rice—is "This Is Ohio."

Another part of the festival will be old-time folk dances and drills presented by 24 girls of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. They will present a total of eight such dances and drills. Another event of the festival will be a Maypole dance, also by grade school children.

Following the festival a chicken sandwich supper will be served by the Lion' Club assisted by the women of the community. It will be held in the high school dining room beginning at 5:30 p.m. There will also be a concession stand on the school grounds.

Also during the supper hour a free movie on Ohio's history will be shown in the school auditorium. Following this, the Marion Eagle's band will present a concert on the school grounds.

Amateur Hour

At 8 p.m. an amateur hour will be held with Martha Rice as the director and Harry Waxler as the master of ceremonies.

This in turn will be followed by a square dance bginning at 9 p. m. with Billy Foster of Delaware as the caller.

Festivities on Saturday will get under way at 10 a.m. with a pet parade in the business district.

Anyone with a pet is eligible to enter the parade and prizes will be awarded for first, second and third places in four classes. The four classes are best performer, best groomed, smallest, and most unusual pet. Dr. Merrill Ranck and John W. Watkins will be in charge of this parade.

At 1 p.m. Saturday the annual Prospect Field meet will be held at the Community Park as a part of the sesqui festivities. Taking part will be the community playground children. Paul Keller is in charge.

At 7 p.m. a ball game will be held on the lighted ball diamonds at the park between the Prospect and Elm Valley teams. Wallace Murray will be in charge of this portion of the three-day program.

Another band concert by the Prospect and Pleasant School bands will be held in the shopping section at 8:30 p.m. Saturday and this will be followed by a fireworks display.

In addition to these daily events there will also be other attractions which will run the entire three days, Mrs. Herr said.

Many Displays

Among these will be an antique show which will be held in the former Marilyn Kay Shop. A flower show will be held in the Electric Light office during the three days of the celebration. This show is sponsored by the Prospect Garden Club, the East Side Garden Club, and the Gardeners.

There will also be numerous other displays of all types in the windows and storerooms of merchants. These will include a photographic histories of the community, model displays, antique, costumes, dishes and silverware and many others. All the displays — which are sponsored by 26 different organizations participating in the celebration—are designed to show the progress of the community since its beginning 110 years ago, Mrs. Herr said.

Another part of the preparations for the affair is the installation of strings of red, white, and blue colored lights across all downtown streets, and the placing of red, white and blue bunting and welcome signs on nearly every Prospect business place.

In addition to Mrs. Herr the sesqui committee includes Mrs. Robert Emery, DeMar King, Mrs. Paul E. Lauer, Harry Waxler, Mrs. Gail Lauer, the Rev. Paul E. Dobberstein, George Reed, and Mrs. Robert Rice.

Mrs. Sherman Biggerstaff and Paul Keller are in charge of publicity. Typist is Mrs. James Lauer and George Wheeler has charge of the park concessions.

The antique show committee members are Dr. and Mrs. N. E Rickey, Mrs. DeMar King, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Gast, and Paul Almendinger.

Chairman of the square dance committee is Jim Almendinger. The finance committee includes George Pugh, B. H. Gast, and Mrs. Bernice Hetzner.

Australian Foreign Secretary Rips Rhee

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Foreign Secretary Richard G. Casey told Korean President Syngman Rhee in a personal message today, "Australians are greatly shocked by your actions in releasing prisoners held by the United Nations Command."

"Your action has jeopardized negotiations in which we have been engaged for two years," the message said.

Casey urged Rhee to reconsider his action and desirt from a reported intention of drafting released prisoners into the South Korean forces.

Man, this bread surprised me!
Never thought any bread had Vitamin D... least of all 93¾% of my daily minimum requirement. I can't get enough of this wonderful bread with the amazing sunshine vitamin. Tastes swell—and keeps me feeling that way!
PLUS 93¾% of your daily requirement of Sunshine Vitamin D
Bread's got to be fresh to suit me. Take this loaf wrapped in sunny yellow Plasta-Seal... I always do. It's a bigger value with Sunshine Vitamin D in every slice.
Dad's a new man these mornings... with a sunny breakfast smile. Must be that bread in the Sunshine Yellow wrapper. He loves it toasted... the way we do.

"I feel safer when my wash is CLOROX-clean!"
CLOROX makes linens more than white... it makes them sanitary, too!
Clorox-white means snowy-white... for Clorox removes dinginess, stains, even scorch and mildew! And Clorox-clean means added health protection... for no other home laundering product equals Clorox in germ-killing efficiency!
And laundering cottons and linens with Clorox has other advantages. It brightens fast colors... deodorizes, too. What's more, Clorox, a liquid, contains no gritty particles to damage wash and washer. It's extra gentle, free from caustic, made by an exclusive, patented formula!
A Clorox-clean bathroom says: "You're a good housekeeper!"
Yes, a Clorox-clean bathroom is a sure sign of a thorough housekeeper. For in routine cleaning, Clorox not only removes stains and deodorizes, it also disinfects... provides a type of non-poisonous disinfection recommended by hundreds of public health departments. See label directions for the many uses of Clorox... America's favorite!
You get all these benefits in a Clorox-clean wash!
1. Snowy-white linens... Clorox removes gray and yellow dinginess.
2. Bright fast colors... Clorox removes dulling film.
3. Lovely-looking linens... Clorox removes ugly stains, even scorch and mildew.
4. Fresh, clean-smelling linens... Clorox deodorizes.
5. Sanitary linens... Clorox is the most efficient germ-killer of its kind.

Four Bids Are Received For City Supplies

$16,375 Lowest On Furnishing Street Material

A total of four bids for supplying the city with street repair and maintenance materials were received at the office of Marion Safety - Service Director Ralph Forrest before the closing deadline at noon Tuesday.

Lowest of the four was for a total of $16,375 and was submitted by the Kerr Asphalt Pavements Company of Newark. This is the total price listed for supplying 7,700 gallons of road oil, 55,000 gallons of asphalt emulsion and 1,850 tons of number 6 size washed crushed limestone.

Other bidders and their total bids were as follows: A. W. Burns and Sons Construction Co. of Columbus, $17,563.50; H and S Contracting Co., of Columbus, $17,050.50; and the U. S. Construction Co. of Upper Sandusky, $17,039.50.

Forrest said the bids will be further examined and considered by the Board of Control before action is taken on awarding of a contract The Board of Control is made up of Mayor Harold F. Robinson and Forrest.

The materials will be used for the repair and maintenance of nearly 19 miles of city streets, parking lots, and alleys, Forrest said.

The Gurkhas, residents of Nepal, have furnished first class fighting men for British armies for generations.

Fried Chicken Ranchero an Outdoor Treat

Few dishes could be more downright mouth-watering than this colorful platter of golden-fried chicken, served with fluffy rice and bubbling-hot curry sauce. One whiff of its tantalizing aroma and guests will come running to porch, patio or terrace — wherever your outdoor table is set.

FRIED CHICKEN RANCHERO

Ingredients: ½ cup flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon curry powder, ½ teaspoon paprika, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon ginger, 3-pound frying chicken, cut in serving pieces, ⅓ cup shortening, 2 cups pared, chopped apples, 1-3 cup chopped onions, ½ cup grated fresh coconut or chopped moist, shredded coconut, 2 cups water, ½ cup milk, 3 cups cooked rice (made with 1 cup raw).

Method: Put first six ingredients in paper bag. Put two pieces of chicken at a time in paper bag and shake to coat evenly. Heat shortening in skillet. Place chicken in hot fat and fry until golden-brown on all sides. Cover and cook over low heat until tender, (about 30 minutes).

Remove chicken to hot platter and make curry sauce as follows: Add apples, onions and coconut to remaining fat in the skillet. Fry, stirring occasionally until onions become transparent. Add remaining seasoned flour and blend. Stir in water and milk gradually.

Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Serve with hot rice. Garnish with perky clusters of parsley. Makes 4-6 servings.

Wyandot County 4-H Members Break Record

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Wyandot County 4-H club enrollment broke another record, according to Associate County Agent W. W. Wharton. There are 824 boys and girls in the county enrolled in 4-H club work, an increase of 58 members over the old record.

Wharton said another record was broken in the number of projects carried by 4-H'ers. The 824 members are carrying 1,353 bonafide 4-H club projects. In 1952, there were 1,173 projects.

The largest livestock enterprise carried by 4-H'ers is in the field of dairying with 96 dairy projects. Beef cattle are second with 38 projects. There are 38 swine projects and 37 sheep projects.

Wharton said there are 80 4-H advisors and junior leaders working with the 4-H'ers in the 32 county clubs.

Bible Class Presents Program on Ohio

A program on Ohio was held when the Wesley Methodist Unity Bible Class met Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. L. E. Reardon on Wood St. It was the last meeting of the group until fall.

Devotions were by Mrs. Fred Upton, and prayer was offered by Mrs. Charles Clark, Mrs. Mary Kates, Mrs. C. W. Coile, and Mrs. Harry Green.

To open the program, the group sang "Dixie" which was written by an Ohio man. Roll call was answered with "Buckeye Kernels." Songs by Mrs. Clark and Mrs. J. M. Edington were "Hail Ohio," written by Mrs. H. K. Mouser, formerly of Marion, "Stars of the Summer Night," and "I Believe," accompanied by Mrs. H. C. Wendler. Poems given by Mrs. R. R. Thornberry included "Autumn in Ohio" and a selection from the works of Paul Lawrence Dunbar.

Mrs. Scott Hassel of Morral, a guest, sang "Only a Rose" and "In the Garden of My Heart." Other guests were Mrs. Phoebe Crist of Upper Sandusky and Miss Rosetta Clark. A guessing box was won by Mrs. Green. Hostesses were Mrs. L. A. Snedeker, Mrs. C. M. Tobin, Mrs. Clara Williams, Mrs. C. P. Thomas, Mrs. James Barkley, and Mrs. Reardon.

MORE POWS ESCAPE

SEOUL (AP)—The United Nations Prisoner of War Command said today five anti-Communist Korean POWs escaped Tuesday night from the prison hospital camp here.

Upper Church Setting For June Wedding

UPPER SANDUSKY — St. Peter's Catholic Church in Upper Sandusky was the scene of a Saturday, June 13 wedding at 10 o'clock, when Miss Freda R. Morehart, only daughter of Mrs. Elnora Morehart, of this city, became the bride of Joseph J. Browne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Browne, of Sandusky.

The Rev. William Sossong, pastor of the church, was celebrant of the nuptial High Mass and performed the double ring ceremony. The men's choir sang the Mass and Mrs. Helen Vogel was at the organ. Maurice Logsdon and Pat Arnold sang solos.

Miss Virginia Browne, sister of the bridegroom, of Sandusky, was maid of honor with Miss Mary Catherine Henige, of this city, and Miss Catherine Mueller of Coldwater as bridesmaids. Sharyn Fritchie, of this city, was flower girl. Jimmy Browne, of Sandusky, nephew of the bridegroom, served as ring bearer. Best man was Cyril J. Fitz, of Dayton.

A wedding breakfast was held at the Evergreen's Restaurant for the immediate families of the couple. In the afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock a reception was held at the bride's home.

The new Mrs. Browne is entering her senior year at the University of Dayton and St. Elizabeth's School of Nursing. She is a member of Sigma Delta and Nu Epsilon Delta Nursing sorority. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Dayton. He is employed in the payroll department at Frigidaire division of General Motors.

American living standards require almost three tons of products from farms and forests each year for every man, woman, and child in the nation, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

GIs Serving Longer Hitches

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than half the men who entered military service since the Korean War began are still on active duty three years later.

The Defense Department made public these figures yesterday:

Draftees and volunteers since the war started total 4,060,000. Nearly two million have returned to civilian life. Draftees numbered 1½ million, of whom 839,800 are still in service.

War dead returned to this country number 22,600 and wounded returned about 62,000.

About 1,600,000 men have seen duty in the Far East during the past three years out of the total of 5½ million of all branches who have served since the beginning of the Korean fighting.

Yankee Hurling Falters, Surprising White Sox Win Again

Chicago Nails Second In Row From Bombers, 8-4

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

After watching the New York Yankees blow two in a row to the hustling Chicago White Sox about the only conclusion you can come to is that somehow the players put on the wrong uniforms.

Certainly the outfit that wore the big "NY" on their suits the past two days bears no resemblance to a world championship club. And the White Sox look every inch pennant contenders instead of third-place talent.

The Sox not only have gained a 6-4 season's edge over the vaunted Yankees. They've succeeded in making the New Yorkers beat themselves. In Tuesday night's 11-3 rout the Yanks committed four errors, three of them in a single inning. Both were high marks for the year.

Yesterday it was faulty pitching. Starter Jim McDonald found the plate only once in 13 pitches and was sent to the showers in the first inning with the bases loaded and nobody out.

Chicago cashed all three of those runners, plus two more in the inning, and coasted to an 8-4 victory.

So the Sox have proved that even the mighty Yankees are only human and that despite their tremendous 10-game bulge over second-place Cleveland, the New Yorkers aren't quite home safe yet.

Since the St. Louis Browns snapped their 18-game winning streak, the Yankees have played only .500 ball, winning five and losing five on the present home stand.

The New Yorkers might be more worried if somebody besides their Indian cousins from Cleveland were coming to visit this week end. Cleveland has lost seven straight to New York and is the only team in the league that hasn't beaten the Yankees at least once.

The Indians came out on top in a 31-hit slugfest at Boston yesterday, whipping the Red Sox, 13-9. St. Louis scored five runs in the last two innings to edge Washington, 7-6 and Detroit won its third straight, 6-3, over Philadelphia.

The suddenly docile Milwaukee Braves lost their third in a row, 10-1, to Pittsburgh, but maintained their three-game league lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Dodgers were beaten, 7-4, by Cincinnati when Gus Bell homered with two on in the last of the ninth.

New York whipped St. Louis, 3-0, as Sal Maglie scattered eight hits and Philadelphia won its 10th game of the season from Chicago, 8-2.

Jim Hegan, Dale Mitchell and Bob Avila each contributed three safeties to the 17-hit Cleveland attack. Mitchell drove in four runs as did Del Wilbur and Tom Umphlett of the Red Sox. Wilbur homered with two on in the seventh for Boston.

Home runs by Roy Sievers and Dick Kokos enabled the Brownies to make it two straight over Washington.

The Tigers jumped on Charlie Bishop for four runs in the first inning, including a home run by Steve Souchock. Shortstop Harvey Kuenn contributed three straight hits, one a home run, for Detroit. Ned Garver went all the way for his sixth victory. He's lost six.

The slumping Braves managed only seven hits, six of them singles, against the right-handed slants of Roy Face, pint-sized rookie curveballer who posted his third victory without a loss for Pittsburgh. The Pirates climbed out of last place with a 15-hit attack against four Milwaukee pitchers.

Bell's blast for Cincinnati climaxed a long uphill struggle after Brooklyn had scored four times in the first inning on home runs by Wayne Belardi and Gil Hodges.

Fine pitching by Maglie halted the Cardinals for only the third time in their last 15 starts. The New York ace had runners on base in almost every inning but nobody got past second. Wilmer Mizell was the loser.

The Phillies pounded Chicago pitching for a dozen hits, seven of them for extra bases while Karl Drews held the Cubs scoreless until the ninth. The loss dropped the Cubs back into the cellar.

Bell's Ninth Inning Homer Sinks Dodgers

Redlegs Win Second In Row From Brooks; Frank Smith Routed

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gus Bell's ninth inning home run Wednesday night gave the Redlegs a 7-4 victory and their second in a row over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

But the credit for the triumph had to be shared with Harry Perkowski who was rushed into the game with two out in the first inning after the Dodgers had clubbed starter Frank Smith for four quick runs.

He held the Brooks to just two hits the rest of the way, struck out four and didn't walk a man.

Smith was no puzzle to Brooklyn in his first starting assignment of the season. A walk to Duke Snider and a single by Roy Campanella set the stage for a home run by Wayne Belardi. Gil Hodges followed with another homer and that brought on Perkowski.

Temperamental Russ Meyer baffled the Redlegs for three innings. They got him for a pair of runs in the fourth on hits by Bobby Adams, Bell, and Ted Kluszewski, a fly by Jim Greengrass and Andy Seminick's single.

Meyer bowed out in the fifth as a walk to Perkowski, Rocky Bridges' triple and a fly produced the tying runs.

That's the way things stood in the last of the ninth when Bridges, a Brooklyn castoff, opened with a double off Jim Hughes. The Brooklyn board of strategy went into a huddle and decided to give Adams an intentional walk. The brain work backfired, however, when Bell lofted his shot into the right field bleachers.

Ohio Cage Stars Meet Kentucky Crew

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky, which has been sending its high school basketball all-stars against both Ohio and Indiana for several years with very little success, will try it again tonight against Ohio.

The Kentuckians, coached by Ed Diddle of Western Kentucky State, already have been beaten by an Indiana team in the current summer series.

The game tonight against the Ohioans will be the 12th in the series and the Buckeye squads have won nine of 11 previous contests. A 13th game will be played at Middletown, O., Saturday night.

Paul Walker who directed Middletown to a second straight Ohio Class A championship last March, again will be coach of the Ohioans and he has named three members of his own team to the 12-player roster.

The Middie players are Cliff Hafer, Tommy Dillman and Paul Johnson.

Walker said because of the heat and the desire to wear down Kentucky's heighth he would use a two-platoon system.

He said he plans to start Hafer, Dillman, Al Sicking of Cincinnati St. Xavier, Phil Semler of Tecumseh and Freddie Weinman of Hamilton. Sicking at 6-6 is the tallest of the lot.

The No. 2 platoon will be made up of Johnson, Jerry Weber of Mariemont's Ohio Class B champions, Mickey Barnes of Cambridge, and Dale Fairchild and Jim Morgan of Dayton Stivers.

Jackie Nichols Wins at Armory

Jackie Nichols marked his return to the Marion wrestling scene with a win in the feature match Wednesday night at the armory.

Hercules McIntire appeared as a substitute for George Macricostas who is injured. Nichols won the first fall after 15 minutes with a grapevine hold. He took the second when McIntire missed a flying tackle and suffered an injury.

Chris Belkas won the semi-final from Chet Wallick after Wallick won the first fall with a body scissors after 18 minutes. Belkas came back to take the second with a reverse full nelson five minutes and copped the third with a drop kick.

Dano O'Shocker pinned Frank Marconi after nine minutes in the 30-minute opener.

GOES TO WEST POINT

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Central Ohio baseball fans still haven't recovered from the disappointment of the pitiful showing of the Columbus Red Birds this season in the American Association race.

Prior to the start of the season and during the early stages of the campaign, big things were seen in store for the Birdies.

Al Bannister, who served for several years as president of the Columbus club, started the chain of events when he moved into the front office of the St. Louis Cardinals after the club's purchase by the Busch outfit. The new owners of the chain promised quick help for the Birds and other minor league clubs.

First indication that help was coming was the assigning of Virgil Stallcup to the Columbus team. Stallcup, former first string shortstop for the Cincinnati Reds, was expected to give the team a hitting infield but he has failed to hit as well as Wally Lammers, who was shipped off to the International League.

Next came Billy Johnson, former infielder with the New York Yankees. Thus far Johnson has shown signs of giving the team the needed hitting but has been unable to connect at the vital times.

George Sisler, all-time major league great, has been assigned to the Birds to fill the office gap created by Bannister's promotion but his work has not been able to add life to the punchless flock.

The miserable performance has served just one purpose. While the Birds have dwindled into nothing better than sandlot performers, the new Toledo entry in the Association has caught fire under the guidance of ex-Yankee George Selkirk and stormed from the cellar into first place and are still battling for the A lead. The Birds are resting a mere 15 games back in the cellar.

GOING STRONG. Wilbur "Jake" Striker, Sulphur Springs hurler with the Cleveland Indian farm system, boasts the second highest won-lost percentage in the Class B Three-I League where he is toiling for Peoria, Ill.

Jake has won six and lost only one for an .857 mark. He has worked in 11 games for a total of 69 innings and has whiffed 55 during that time. Only percentage topping his is held by a pitcher with four wins and no losses.

DEATH WAS CLOSING IN. A fraction of a second after this picture was taken at the Ukiah, Calif., fairgrounds, Harold Pine, 25, of Albuquerque, N.M., was killed. The stunt driver was supposed to come off the ramp (right), hit the car in front of him and then do a complete somersault, landing right side up. Instead the car pancaked and Pines neck was broken.

Railroaders Cop First Round Title in Industrial Action

The C & O Railroad emerged as winners of the first round of defeating McMillen Feed Wednesday at Garfield Park, 15-3. The two teams entered the final week of play with perfect records of five wins and no losses to set the stage for the championship tile. The C & O win completed the list of first round winners for the four Marion Recreational Leagues.

Scoring seven runs in the first inning the C & O actually tallied all the runs needed to take the championship game. They did it on a total of five hits which included a homer by B. Piercini with two men on the sacks. After McMillen added, a single run in the first the winners came back with four more in the second frame which included a triple and double by Lloyd and Dick Detwiler. Mel Donaugh gave the McMillen crowd momentary joy by hitting a home run in the second inning with Andrews on base to set the score at 9-3. However, the railroaders poured it on in the fourth inning with another barrage of five runs on five hits. Griffith. Dick Detwiler and Baumgartner rapped successive doubles in the inning as the C & O romped to a 15-3 lead, large enough to have the game stalled at the end of five innings. Howard Medley was the winning hurler, allowing four hits in five innings while Mel Donaugh absorbed his first loss of the Industrial League season.

Howard Grubbs of Baker Wood pounded out five hits in five times at the plate to aid his mates in a 16-6 romp over the General Telephone Company. Grubbs had a field day at the expense of the Telephone Company pitching, rapping out a total of four doubles and a triple. Cecil Lang gave up eight hits to the Phone Company hitters, six of them being bunched in the third and fourth innings when the losers notched four of their total of six runs.

Marion Metal also had an easy time, getting by Pollak Steel, 13-3. The winners broke a five-game losing streak. Seven runs were tallied in the second inning on a six-hit assault. The game was called at the end of five innings. Baker and Bob Smith led the winners' attack each with a pair of doubles. Gib Herr was the winning hurler while Noble and Potts handled the pitching for the Pollak crew.

Toledo Sweeps 2 From Columbus

Indianapolis and Toledo refuse to budge an inch—or a percentage point—in their close fight for the American Association 1953 flag.

The first place Indians Wednesday night swept a doubleheader, 3-1 and 11-7 from seventh place Charleston, but runnerup Toledo kept a game behind the leaders with a double win over last-place Columbus, 5-3, and 12-7.

Louisville edged Minneapolis, 2-1, in the first game of a twin bill at Louisville, but the Millers nipped the Colonels 5-4, in 10 innings in the nightcap.

In a single game at Kansas City, the third-place Blues staged a four-run uprising in the eighth inning to defeat St. Paul 6-5.

Wynn Weakens

Cleveland Hits Offensive High, Sinks Red Sox, 13-9

BOSTON (AP)—The Cleveland Indians try to even their four-game series against Boston's Red Sox today with Art Houtteman trying for his first winning start since leaving Detroit.

Southpaw Mel Parnell, who has lost seven straight to Cleveland since Sept. 20, 1949, will be after the 100th victory of his major league career and his 10th this season against four losses.

The Indians Wednesday thumped the Red Sox 13-9, mashing out 17 hits. The hits and runs totals were high marks for the 1953 Tribe.

Early Wynn had trouble guarding a 10-3 lead provided for him in the first five innings and was removed in the eighth. The Red Sox had pushed over three runs on two singles and Del Wilber's homer in the seventh.

When Bob Lemon relieved Wynn, the score was 11-7, Jim Piersall was on third with a triple and George Kell on first because he was hit by a pitched ball. Lemon got Ted Lepcio to hit into a rally-ending double play.

Marv Grissom was given a three-run edge in the first inning on singles by Billy Goodman and Floyd Baker, a walk, a passed ball that let in a run, and Tom Umphlett's two-run single. But the Indians got to Grissom for four markers in the second after he filled the bases with three walks. Jim Hegan singled two runs home, and Dale Mitchell and Bob Avila each singled in one.

A five-run rally by the Tribe in the third chased Herschel Freeman. Five singles and a walk did the trick. Base hits by Mitchell and Avila each were good for two runs.

Ben Flowers held the Indians to a fifth-inning run on singles by Hegan and Mitchell. In the eighth Al Rosen tripled and Larry Doby's single brought him home. Two

Moore Wins Unanimous Decision Over Maxim

Archie Retains Light Heavy Championship

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Archie Moore of California may be a relic of ring warfare, but he is still the light heavyweight champion of the world.

The 36-year-old warrior from San Diego turned back the threat of Joey Maxim of Cleveland last night, whacking out a unanimous decision in a mauling, bruising 15-round match—Utah's first title show.

California Archie, who lifted the crown from Pal Joey in St. Louis last December, after campaigning for 16 years, weighed 173¾ and Maxim, his 31-year-old threat, scaled 175.

Referee Ray Miller of New York gave it to Moore, 7 rounds to 6 for Maxim and 2 even. Judge Nat Fleischer of New York scored it 8-7 for Moore, and Ken Shulsen, Salt Lake City, gave Moore 8 rounds, Maxim 5 and 2 even. The New York system of round-by-round scoring was used.

Moore's immediate plans are indefinite. But his manager, Charley Johnston, said he had tentative offers for Archie to appear in South America, where he won five fights in 1951, and in San Diego.

Maxim left the ring with a couple of eye cuts but neither was serious nor had any effect on the outcome.

Maxim seemed to have landed the two hardest punches, both right-hand blows for which he is not famed. But he was unable to hold off the swarming Moore.

"Joey was much stronger than the last time," Moore said later. "He really was in there trying all the time."

Said Joey: "I wasn't hurt at all. He caught me with a whale of a left. Not the kind that puts you away but makes your head rattle."

There were no knockdowns and aside from Joey's slight cuts and an occasional mouth bleed by Moore, no one got hurt.

Co-promoter Kenney Mayne reported gate receipts for the fight would total about $70,000. He said the promotion "missed by about $20,000" but emphasized that "everyone will get paid."

He said between 7,000 and 8,000 persons attended the bout.

Track Record In Danger At Dayton Meet

Santee Goes After Four-Minute Mile During AAU Event

DAYTON, O. (AP)—The four-minute mile may be taken from the mythical category and placed in the record books this week-end by a lean, youthful Kansas during the National AAU outdoor track and field championships at Dayton High School Stadium.

Wes Santee, the University of Kansas flash who has already come closer than any other American to the elusive "perfect" mile, will be the main focus of attention to the two-day meet.

But even if Santee, 20, whose recent 4:02.4 is one second off the world record, fails to achieve his objective, there are strong possibilities that as many as a half-a-dozen other international marks will tumble.

The California twosome of Parry O'Brien and Sim Ines may walk off with new world marks in the shot put and discus. Both are possessors of the current standards which they set this spring. O'Brien has shot-putted 59 feet, 2⅜ inches and could achieve the shotput equivalent of a four-minute mile with a 60-foot heave. Iness, who has a 190-foot-plus discuss toss on record, could match that by going over the 200-foot mark, but nobody is expecting that.

Mal Whitfield, the Olympic 800-meter champion who is at his peak this year, may be just the man to erase the records in the 400-yard and 880-yard runs. But Oklahoma's J. M. Mashburn, who has beaten Jamaica's Herb McKenley, possessor of the fastest 440-year time ever run, could deprive Whitfield of his big chance in the shorter distance.

Galion Driver Wins Feature At Richwood

Joe Jones won the first heat and took top honors in the feature at the Richwood Speedway Tuesday night. A five-car pileup added to the thrills. Jim Church of Delaware spun in front of the stand when hit by Jack Hedges but no one was hurt.

Dick Decker of Delaware won the second heat, Ray Wallace of Marion, the third and Bob Reece, the fourth. Doughbelly Skinner won the pursuit race and Jim Hamilton was second in the feature.

Two Marion drivers that will have cars racing on the Richwood track, were present to look over the track. They were Paul Hooper and his relief driver Bill Krohmer.

Saturday night, July 4, there will be a national auto racing championship run Indianapolis style at the speedway. Thirty-three cars will participate in the 300-lap race. The Speedway is located inside the Richwood Fairgrounds.

Twins Doing Fine

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Twin girls with a combined weight of only 7 pounds 13 ounces were reported in good condition today.

The tiny babies were born yesterday, a month earlier than expected, to Mrs. Elizabeth Autera, 22, wife of an aircraft worker. One child weighed 3 pounds 13 ounces, the other 4 pounds even. The mother also is doing fine.

Marion Couple Catch Big Fish

Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, 14 Eckley Dr., returned Saturday from a fishing trip in Florida with a seven foot sailfish and a 45-pound wahoo to their credit. Brown landed the sailfish after a 30-minute battle. Mrs. Brown reeled in the wahoo after 15 minutes of fighting.

This was Mrs. Brown's first experience as a deep-sea fisherman. She and her husband have made an annual trip to Miami but she never ventured into the deeper waters.

The fish were taken from a new boat, the "Sea Boots" captained by Buddy Carey. Brown had noticed that fishermen returning at night aboard the "Sea Boots" usually had a fine catch, so he made arrangements for he and his wife to go out with Carey's boat and they returned with their prizes.

Brown has had the sailfish mounted. This was the seventh year in which he and his wife have traveled to Florida during their vacation. They motored down.

The Brown's ten-year-old son John Edward accompanied them to Miami but did no fishing. He is a student at George Washington School. He will be in the fourth grade in September.

Last Sunday, the Browns went along the Florida Keys and caught more than 100 bonitas, a type of tuna fish, in less than five hours.

Sues Doctor

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Los Angeles man says a San Francisco physician was negligent in attending at his birth 21 years ago.

Hector Olivas filed suit yesterday asking $175,000 damages from Dr. William M. Weiner. He says he sufered paralysis and deformity of the right shoulder and arm and the right side of his head and that the condition has kept him from earning a living.

Campy Back In All-Star Lead

Brooklyn Ace Passes Milwaukee Rival

CHICAGO (AP) — Catcher Roy Campanella of Brooklyn's second place Dodgers returned to the lead today in the ballot-battle for a starting assignment in the All-Star baseball poll.

The 31-year old Negro, who is seeking his fifth straight berth in the All-Star game in Cincinnati July 14, passed his Milwaukee rival, Del Crandall by 8,714 votes. The latest tabulations of returns in the nation-wide balloting headquarters showed Campanella with 172,918 votes. Crandall has been named on 164,204 lineups.

Favor Snead In Cleveland Golf Tourney

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite an injured hand, Sammy Snead was a red hot favorite today as 118 professionals and 23 amateurs started a 72-hole, four-day scramble for a $15,000 purse over Manakiki Golf Club's 6651-yard par-72 forest-infested layout.

The long-hitting, drawling West Virginian—just back from a Florida fishing trip—clipped former National Public Links champion Smiley Quick by two strokes with a 67 in a practice round Wednesday and declared he was ready.

Arrayed against Snead, who has won everything except the National Open, is an impressive group of golfing talent.

The field includes such luminaries as former National Open champions Lawson Little, Billy Burke, Cary Middlecoff and Julius Boros; National Public Links ex-kings Quick and Al Leach; former Amateur champions Little and Skee Riegel; PGA victors Jim Turnesa, Jim Ferrier and Denny Shute, former intercollegiate champions Freddy Haas and Earl Stewart, and practically all the Ohio Open, Amateur and Public Links winners of the decade.

First prize is $2,400.

Penney Employees Honor McGrew

Cutler A. McGrew, retiring manager of the local J. C. Penney Co. store, was the guest of honor at a picnic yesterday afternoon and evening at Harrison Smith Park in Upper Sandusky. Present were approximately 60 store associates, families, and guests.

An out-of-town guest was William Spurr of Anderson, Ind., former assistant manager of the Marion store.

Committee in charge of arrangements included John Ewald, present assistant manager, Miss Dorothy Hayes, Mrs. Mary Mishler and Mrs. Hazel Roddy.

Mr. McGrew is retiring July 1 after serving 28 years in the Penney Company, 19 years of which were spent as manager of the Marion store.

Vance, Hinton Fall

Osgood, Wilhelm Win In Little League Tilts

Osgood tripped Vance Sporting Goods, 16-5, and Wilhelm Wallpaper blasted Hinton's 17-2, in the National League games of Little League Baseball Wednesday night.

Vance opened up with a six-hit assault in the first inning to lead in the game, 4-3. Then the steady bats of Osgood put them ahead by one run.

In the fifth inning Carroll walked with one out and Bechtle followed with a base on balls. The runners advanced due to errors on the leftfielder and the shortstop. Stu and Steve Flesher each singled, driving in two runs. Simmons then came up with a double driving in two more. Conkle was hit by a pitch, White moved to first on a fielder's choice and an error on the catcher brought another run across and enabled Winters to go to first. Another hit batsman, two singles and a base on balls brought five more across to end the rally and seal up the game for Osgood.

The winning pitcher, giving up five runs on ten hits, was Simmons.

In the second game Wilhelm waged a relentless attack as they scored six in the second, seven in the third, three in the fourth and one in the fifth. Hinton's collected three hits off of Wilhelm's Bailey. Chamberlain rapped out three doubles for Wilhelm. Both teams were charged with three errors.

Giles and Ansley gave up a combined 14 walks for Hinton's, close to an average of three walks an inning. Tonight's games are between Isaly and Marion County Bank and National City Bank and Goodyear.

Harding Class of 1933 Plans Reunion Saturday

Plans are being completed for the reunion of the Class of 1933, Harding High School, Saturday evening at Hotel Harding.

More than 150 of the 271 graduates are expected to attend the event which will get under way at 6:30 o'clock. Dinner is scheduled for 7:30.

John Guthrie, general chairman, will be master of ceremonies for the evening. An informal program will be held during the dinner.

New Traffic Light Installed

Installation of a new traffic light at S. Prospect and Superior Sts. and plans to install three others were announced today by Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest.

Three other lights which will be installed within a few days will be located at N. Greenwood and E. Mark Sts., Mt. Vernon and S. Grand Aves., and Latourette and Bennett Sts. These will be school hour lights only while the one on S. Prospect St. will be a full-time light operating 24 hours a day.

All four were authorized recently by action of City Council.

It is estimated there are around 400 active and many more inactive volcanoes in the world.

Hoover, Truman Both on Capitol Hill Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—It wasn't planned and their paths didn't cross, but the only two living former presidents were both on Capitol Hill yesterday.

Herbert Hoover dropped in briefly on Sen. Taft (R-Ohio). They discussed, in the senator's office, legislation for a new government reorganization commission. Hoover headed one such body.

Few people knew of Hoover's visit, but the Senate galleries were packed when Harry S. Truman visited that chamber.

Truman got a warm bipartisan greeting, was escorted to his old Senate seat and made a brief speech.

He told the senators they had a duty to "help keep peace in the world."

He also quipped that he liked the location of his old seat, near a door—"when the going was too rough there was always a way to get out."

Bounties Totaling $282.50 Paid in County This Year

Fox, Crow Live With Price on Heads

Members of the fox and crow population here in Marion County, as elsewhere in the state, are living with a price on their heads.

The ever-present "goblins will get you if you don't watch out" is of no concern to them, but the fear of the bounty is there.

The bounty, authorized by the Ohio General Code, means that for every fox killed in the county a payment of three dollars is made, and for every crow the bounty is 25 cents.

In order to collect the bounty on fox, Ohio law requires the bounty-claimant to bring the fox's four paws to the office of the county sheriff who fills out a certificate which the claimant takes to the county auditor and county treasurer for payment of the bounty.

For crow bounties, the procedure is similar except that the claimant takes the crow heads to the clerk of the township trustees who makes out the certificate.

Claimants must be residents of the county in hich the foxes and crows are killed in order to be eligible for the bounty, the law states, and furthermore, another eligibility requirement for the crow bounty is that the claim must be presented to the township in which the crows were killed.

Records in Marion County Auditor Maurice Clements' office indicate that fox bounties paid in 1952 amounted to $270 and crow bounties were $97.75. That means 90 foxes and 391 crows were killed.

So far this year the score stands at 51 foxes and 118 crows, for which $153 bounties for fox and $29.50 bounties for crows have been paid from the county treasury.

DEFENDS ACTION. With hands clasped around a pencil, Dr. Allen V. Austin, U. S. bureau of standards fired but-temporarily-reinstated director, turns with pipe in mouth to answer a question when he testified before the Senate small business committee at Washington. Austin, who is scheduled to go on the stand again, told senators his bureau, on the basis of "cold hard scientific fact," is convinced that the controversial AD-X2 powder, reputed to extend the life of wet cell batteries, does nothing to improve the performance of batteries.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market went higher today following federal reserve action easing the tight money situation.

Some rail, mitor and oil shares scored gains of a point or more in a rally that started soon after the opening. However, trading slackened in late morning and most stocks lost a part of their gains.

Among the better performers today were Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Railway, Nortern Pacific, Chrysler, American Optical, Texas Pacific Land Trust, Rio Grande, Illinois Central and Phillips Petroleum.

Stocks showing improvement included U. S. Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, Douglas, Zenith, American Telephone, Industrial Rayon, United Gas, Pepsi-Cola, Minnesota Mining, Aluminum, Ltd., Union Oil, Phelps Dodge, Du Pont, General Electric and Sinclair.

News of Our Neighbors

LaRue

On Monday evening, June 29, a tour of several of the flower gardens of members of the LaRue Garden Club has been planned: The meeting place will be the home of Mrs. M. C. Clements at 6:30 p.m. and hers will be the first garden visited. The last place visited will be at the home of Miss Ruby Williams, where the regular monthly meeting will be held. Election of officers for the new year, which will begin in September, will be held.

Committees for the new year will be the same as during the past circle year, according to the announcement made by the president, Mrs. C. C. Holliday when the In His Name Circle met recently in the church annex with Mrs. Sheldon Kramp and Mrs. Bernard Littell as hostesses. The meeting opened with prayer led by Mrs. Alvin LaRue. A picnic was announced to be held during the summer while the meetings are recessed. Pledge cards for the new year were distributed to the members.

The program theme was "Youth in Christian Fellowship" and program leaders were Mrs. H. H. Bailey, Mrs. Everette Harris and Mrs. Leslie Adams. "Religious Inspirations gained in Youth" were given by the members in response to roll call. The Scripture reading, meditation and prayer were led by Mrs. Harris. The secretary of youth work, Mrs. Robert Rizor, gave a report. A letter from a missionary was read by Mrs. Bailey. Refreshments were served by the hostesses during the social time which followed the program.

Word has been received of the birth of a son to Lt. and Mrs. Joseph Appelfeller of Cherry Point, N. C., on Tuesday, June 23. Mrs. Appelfeller is the former Miss Mary Benson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Benson of LaRue.

Westfield

The annual homecoming will be held at the Methodist Church Sunday, June 28. The forenoon session will start at 10 a.m. with Sunday school services held in the main room of the church. Basket dinner will be at the noon hour. The Rev. Howard Mumma, pastor of the Broadway Methodist Church in Columbus, will be the guest speaker. Special music, songs and readings will be included in the afternoon's program.

—:—

Richwood

Eighteen members of the Brownie Troop of the Girl Scouts with their leaders, Mrs. John D. Livingston and Mrs. William Livingston, assistants, Cherril Ann Grandstaff and Carol Sue Kelly, also accompanied by Mrs. Billy Cramer spent Thursday at the Columbus Zoo, and enjoyed a picnic supper.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

Herbert C. Clarke

Herbert Calhoun Clarke, 55, of 341 Chestnut St., veteran of World Wars I and II, died at 4:35 p.m. Wednesday at home. He was ill two and a half years.

Born Dec. 28, 1897, in McKeesport, Pa., he was a son of Robert and Mary Ann Havern Clarke, the father a native of Ireland and the mother of Scotland. Sept. 25, 1923, he married Pearl Celeste Adams at Columbus.

A private in the U. S. Army Medical Corps during World War I, he remained in military service until 1935, then he entered the U. S. Navy Dec. 2, 1943 and received his discharge Feb. 3, 1945. In the Navy he was a petty officer second class. His home was in Marion 30 years, and he worked as an assembler at the Universal Cooler Corp. seven and a half years. He came here from Pittsburgh, Pa., and was a member of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church at McKeesport.

Surviving are his widow, and children, Mrs. Jack Lewis of 442 Brightwood Dr., Robert L. Clarke of 216½ Blaine Ave., and Mrs. Darell Willis of 574 Universal Ave., five grandchildren, and brothers and sisters, Robert A. Clarke, Stanley Clarke, and Miss Gladys Clarke, all of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Isabelle McLure of Alexandria, Va., and Raymond Clarke of Williamsburg, Pa.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary on Mt. Vernon Ave. The Rev. Frederick W. Leech, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures were fractionally lower at the start on the Board of Trade today. Corn and oats also were easy, but soybeans were firm.

Wheat opened ¼-⅛ cent lower, July $1.94¾-½; corn was ⅝ down to ⅛ up, July $1.54½-¼, and oats were unchanged to ⅛ lower, July 74⅞. Soybeans were unchanged to ½ cent igher, July $.84-2.83¾.

The first Army officer to be named president of the American Medical Association was Major Joseph Janvier Woodward. He assumed the AMA presidency in 1881.

IN THE SERVICE

Cadet Richard G. Leffler, student at Ohio University, is one of the 1564 cadets from 83 colleges and universities assigned to the 1953 ROTC camp at Fort Lee, Va., for a six - week field training course which will continue until Aug. 1. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs E. G. Leffler of 571 Delaware Ave. The summer camp has been planned to provide practical exercises and demonstrations to supplement the principles and theories taught in college classrooms. Much emphasis is being placed on weapons. Each student will have an opportunity to fire the carbine, M-1 rifle, .45 caliber pistol, and .45 caliber sub-machine gun. He will also get a familiarization course in machine guns, grenades, and rocket launchers. Leffler graduated from Harding High School in 1950.

The extinct sea cows which formerly lived in the Bering Sea were 20 to 25 feet long.

SEEKS ASYLUM. Capt. Jan Cwiklinski (above) of the Polish ship Batory has jumped his ship and asked for political asylum in Britain, it was announced. Here he shows the Gold Cross of Merit to newsmen in 1949, announcing the medal was presented to him in Gydnia for "outstanding service" in the Polish merchant marine. Cwiklinski was captain of the Batory when Gerhardt Eisler stowed away and reached Europe.

ABANDON SEARCH

LORAIN, O. (AP)—Coast Guardsmen abandoned a search Wednesday for the body of Edward White, 18, of Canton. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. White was drowned Tuesday while swimming in Lake Erie at nearby Vermilion.

'Tiny' Kinsey

the items are standard pieces of furniture reinforced for him. He cannot sit in any living room chair, but must use a couch, on which he occupies two thirds of the seating space. In the kitchen, he uses an ordinary kitchen chair reinforced in the legs. His bed is made of channel iron underpinnings.

During the Christmas season, he plays Santa Claus throughout the area, and has performed in Marion in addition to Galion, Bucyrus, and Mansfield.

Tiny is one of six children born to Mr. and Mrs. John Kinsey. His mother has since remarried and is now Mrs. O. J. DeWalt, 520 N. Union St., Galion. His brothers are John W. and Jimmy L. both of near Galion. He has three sisters, Mrs. Frank Durtsche, Galion, Mrs. Cletus Rosencrantz, Temperance, Mich., and Mrs. T. M. Sedruley, who operates the restaurant section of the Kinsey station.

Lawn Ceremony

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Turner Holt, pastor of the Church of Christ of Galion, on the lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. DeWalt.

Following a reception at the DeWalt home for the immediate family and a few friends, the couple left immediately for their apartment above the filling station which Kinsey operates.

The bride chose an orchid street-length dress, and white accessories. A corsage of yellow roses completed her outfit.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWalt were the attendants.

Truce

hung suspended between fears of what Rhee will do next and how the Reds will react.

Rhee's speech came on the third anniversary of the Korean War—a day that only a week ago was expected by many to be Korean armistice day.

However, Rhee's release of the prisoners, his unbending demand for agreed unification, and his unwillingness to accept the truce agreement pushed an armistice somewhere into the future.

Rhee spoke defiantly from the battle-scarred Capitol building in his aging, scratchy voice.

"Our hopes are almost gone," he said, referring to his own terms for truce.

"There must be a showdown with the Communists now.

"If we win it, as we surely will," Korea will be unified.

"If not, we will fight on to crush the enemy until every one of us dies."

He said South Korea should be given the freedom to "fight on, if by ourselves . . . to decide our own fate by our own hands."

Although Rhee's speech showed no hint of a change in his policy, both Rhee and Robertson earlier expressed hope their crucial face-to-face meeting could find a way to an armistice in this war-ravaged country.

Robertson told newsmen: "I am still hopeful that I will be able to remove all misunderstandings and differences that stand in the way of peace."

And Rhee himself said Robertson's visit may open "new channels" for a solution.

The armistice talks themselves remained suspended until the Allies answer a violent Red protest over Rhee's release of the 27,000 POWs. There was no indication when the next meeting would be called.

WOMEN DEMOCRATS TO A TEA. It's all smiles at this tea in the National Women's Democratic club in Washington in honor of Mrs. Truman and Margaret Truman. From left: Margaret Truman, Mrs. Truman, Mrs. Oscar Chapman, chairman of the club; Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

Meanwhile, Gen. Mark Clark, U.N. commander, said in Tokyo the Allies have achieved their avowed purpose by stopping Red aggression and pushing the Communists back across the 38th Parallel, the jumpoff point of three years ago.

In an anniversary message to the U. N. Command, Clark said the ultimate goal remains:

"An honorable armistice, followed by the peaceful unification of Korea."

Rhee as said the Allies agreed to unify Korea and drive out the Reds, but top Allied statesmen disagree, holding to Clark's statement.

Car Strikes Farm Outfit

A car driven by Robert L. Stanley, 21, of 125 Waterloo St., Marion, sideswiped a parked farm tractor and wagon driven by Wayne Gray, 18, of near Caledonia, on Marion County Road 163, at 6 p.m. Wednesday. Highway patrolmen said the accident occurred about a mile south of Caledonia.

The farm outfit was parked partially on the berm of the highway at the time the oncoming Stanley car struck it, patrolmen said. The entire left side of the wagon and the left front and rear fenders, left front door, bumper and grille of the Stanley car were badly damaged.

Harold Tucker, 26, of Elyria, was arrested on a charge of unsafe operation and was fined $15 and costs by Mayor R. L. Wilson of Chatfield after his car struck one driven by Naomi Brown, 49, of near Bloomville, on State Route 4 at the intersection of Route 298 and Crawford County Road 5. The collision occurred at 5:55 p.m. Wednesday when Tucker attempted to pass the left-turning Brown car. Minor damage to the left side of the Brown vehicle and the front of the Tucker car was reported.

At 11 p.m. Wednesday, on State Route 4, one mile north of the Crawford-Marion County line, a car driven by Harry Fink, 55, of Cleveland Heights, rammed into the back of a car driven by Maggie Noggle, 25, of near Marion. The Noggle car had stopped to make a left turn into a private drive when Fink hit the rear of the car. Minor damage to the rear of the Noggle car and the front of Fink's auto was reported. Fink was arrested by patrolmen on a charge of unsafe operation and was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Frank P. Siller of Bucyrus.

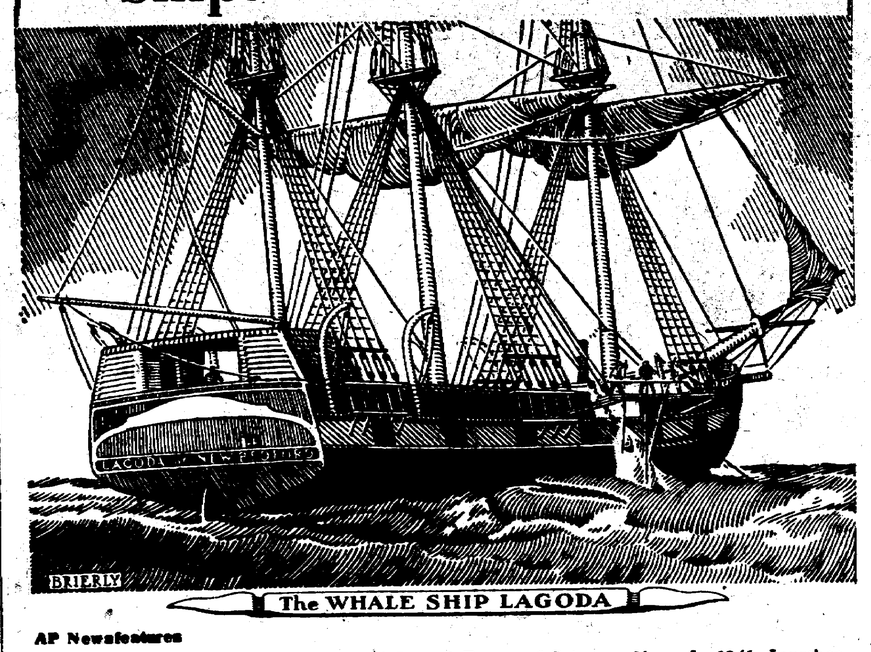
Ships of America ---15



The WHALE SHIP LAGODA

AP Newsfeatures

This ship was built in 1826 by Seth and Samuel Foster of Scituate, Mass. In 1841, Jonathan Bourne of New Bedford bought her and changed her rig to that of a bark and fitted her out as a whaler, the most noticable change being a super structure at her stern, consisting of a house on the starboard side containing a galley and one on the port, containing two lockers with a pair of stairs between them leading to the officers' quarters below. Both houses and the space between were roofed over with two openings cut in the forward part to enable the helmsman to see the luff of the sail. She was the most successful of Bourne's many whalers and, in her 12 voyages of two or three years each, made a net profit of over $650,000. A model (half size, said to be the largest ship model in the world) is now in The Bourne Whaling Museum in New Bedford, given by Miss Emily H. Bourne as a memorial to her famous father.

Servant of the Law

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

The judge who sentenced the Rosenbergs, Irving R. Kaufman, I know well and respect highly for his character, his courage and is erudition. Only 43 years old, he has already had a long and important career as a lawyer, serving in the Department of Justice before he was appointed to the federal judiciary at the age of 39.

Perhaps never before has a judge in an American court been subjected to such organized mass pressure.

Judge Kaufman's life and the lives of his wife and children were threatened. He received so large a volume of vituperative mail that he had to stop reading it. He was called on the telephone day and night until he stopped answering calls even from personal friends. (An unlisted telephone number did not help; somehow the Communists managed to discover what it was.)

BUT THE WORST pressure was in that curious New York atmosphere of liberalism, which often rejects the law in favor of mob rule. Every kind of influence was brought to bear on Judge Kaufman to change his decision.

The usual argument was:

"Why do you need to assume this responsibility? Make the sentence lower and your troubles will be over."

It is the old and dangerous argument against sticking one's neck out, a theory which makes for irresponsibility and even corruption.

This counsel came not from Communists, but from so-called respectable citizens, some of them with important names in the community, men who should understand what the words,, duty and responsibility, mean in a free society.

They placed personalities above the law and by their conduct imperilled our way of life.

THE VOLUME of petitions was enormous and to them were signed the names of important educators, clergymen, authors, politicians, all of whom seemed to view Judge Kaufman as an orge who was sentencing innocent persons.

Yet, the Rosenbergs were convicted by a jury in open court; the conviction was confirmed five times by the Supreme Court of the United States; numerous appeals to the President produced neither pardon nor a commutation.

The Rosenbergs had a fair fight for their lives and their case requires no discussion here.

The Communists expended them as readily as they do all the children of the revolution who ave served their purposes. Those who join conspiracies must expect to die by them.

Our courts are the last refuge of human freedom because in them the law, not the private advantages of men, should govern.

The federal courts, in particular, have had a good name during most of American history because the judges who served on that bench are appointed for life or good behavior and once appointed are freed forever from the favor of powerful individuals or of the mob.

JUDGE KAUFMAN has served with dignity and propriety. The law dictated his conduct and he never faltered in its service.

As I happen to know, Judge Kaufman is a man of deeply religious sensibilities, and therefore it must have been doubly difficult for him to order the death of any human being.

He had also sworn to uphold the law, to protect the Constitution and to maintain our nation. He had to be faithful to his oath.

I need point to the well-known fact that Judge Irving Kaufman is a Jew by birth, by affiliation, and by religious beliefs and practices.

The Rosenbergs were born of Jewish parents but, as Marxists, could not have been Jews by religion. Yet, in this amazingly wonderful society of ours, a judge of the Jewish faith sentences two spies of Jewish origin for treason.

IN THIS incident, Americanism triumphed. Not even the most vindictive anti-Semite can ignore either the heart-break of the judge in this case or his stern adherence to duty, which is the duty of a public servant.

The Communists will, from now on, hound Judge Kaufman. They will use every trick and wile to hurt him. They will abuse his name and write slogans about him.

That cannot be helped. That is their method and as long as we tolerate them among us, we must expect them to act according to their doctrines.

The rest of us can do much to honor and respect judges who do their duty and who withstand mob pressure.

To the galaxy of America's great judges can now be added the name of Irving Kaufman, servant of the law.

IN THE SERVICE

Harold E. Waterhouse, fireman USN, is here on a ten-day leave from the Naval Training Base in New London, Conn. He is staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Waterhouse of 149 N. Seffner Ave.

Pfc. Paul R. Winkle, whose wife, Martha Mae, lives in Richwood, recentely completed a one-week course in photo interpretation conducted by the 1st Cavalry Division in Japan. The course, part of the division's extensive training program is planned to acquaint selected soldiers with the techniques of interpreting and evaluating aerial photographs for military intelligence purposes. Winkle, who entered the Army in January 1951, arrived overseas the following August and is now serving in the division's 79th Tank Battalion. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stout of Richwood.

Pvt. John W. Shifley, whose wife, Azalia, lives near Upper Sandusky, was recently assigned to Company A of the 765th Transportation Railway Shop Battalion in Korea as a diesel electric locomotive electrician. The battalion, the only military organization of its type in the Far East, is assigned the job of rebuilding, repairing and maintaining all of the United Nations railroad stock in Korea. Private Shifley attended North Robinson High School and graduated in 1950. Before entering the Army, he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad as a diesel electric locomotive electrician. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shifley of Bucyrus.

Cadet Harman A. Stull of Richwood has arrived at Ft. Knox, Ky. for six weeks of Armor ROTC summer training. Stull is an advanced ROTC student at Ohio State University. Cadets taking the course came from 55 colleges and universities. They will receive technical training in the use and maintenance of small arms, tank guns, radio and wire communications. Much training will involve company level field problems, facilities for which are not available on college campuses.

Court Postpones All But One Case To Fall Term

Only case remaining to be heard this summer during the May term of Common Pleas Court is scheduled for July 14 and 15. It is the state criminal case charging Howard Edington with assault with intent to commit rape, and breaking and entering.

Several civil cases scheduled for the hearing during the summer months have been moved up to the September term of court. Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith said this is customary action for most courts. Reasons cited by the judge for this action include the high temperature reached in the Courtroom on summer days and the vacation schedule conflicts encountered in obtaining prospective jurors.

Edington was indicted on the two counts by the grand jury on May 15. The charges resulted after he was stabbed early Easter morning by a 17-year-old Bryant St. woman when it is alleged he attempted to attack her in her home.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

Ohio's first venture in publicly owned and State Parks Division operated vacation playgrounds is the Lake Hope State Park, part of the 18,000-acre Zaleski Forest, 20 miles west of Athens. Vacation cabins, the Lodge dining hall, miles of hiking trails, boating, fishing and swimming at Lake Hope offer every member of the family a variety of recreational and sports adventure. Set in the wooded hills of souhtern Ohio, Lake Hope is one of this state's famed beauty spots. In pre-Civil War days, the Zaleski Mining Company operated the Hope iron furnace at this location where ruins of early iron furnaces are still to be seen.

WLW-C Scheduled To Change To Channel 4 Sunday

Television Station WLW-C in Columbus will change from Channel 3 to Channel 4 Sunday, unless weather or other complications prevents it, the staton announced today.

The channel change is in compliance with a reallocation of Commission authorized in April, 1952.

The changeover involves the purchase and installation of equipment in excess of $300,000.

In addition to the channel change, WLW-C is planning to increase its visual power to 100,000 watts which will produce a stronger, clearer picture for viewers throughout the station coverage area, which will be increased to a 60-mile radius.

Due to the technical changes, set owners may have to have slight readjustments made in their sets in order to gain peak performance, the station announcement said.

Administration On More Efficient Basis, Kyes Says

DETROIT (AP)—Deputy Defense Secretary Roger M. Kyes said last night the Eisenhower administration "has charted a new course" in efficient government. He predicted that critics of proposed cuts in the defense budget will quiet down after "a few walls."

In a speech before the Detroit Board of Commerce, Kyes declared, "Our ship of state can no longer be a luxury liner."

"The hard-earned dollars of the American people," he said, "can no longer be called upon in the name of national security unless 100 cents of every such dollar actually buys national security."

Of the 300 minerals found in North Carolina, 70 are in commercial quantity.

Expect Wheat Harvest To Begin Soon

A large harvest of wheat is expected to begin within 10 days in Marion County.

Sa far, the lack of rain in this area has not had an adverse effect on the wheat crop.

A very good crop of hay has been reported by Marion farmers and indications are that the wheat will be as abundant.

Few army worms have been reported in this area and no immediate danger is seen from that source.

The lack of rain has resulted in harm to the corn crop but no estimate of the extent of the damage can be made yet. Beans are also suffering but a good rainfall would alleviate most of the damage to that crop.

Filling Pulpit Just One of Earl N. Hale's Many Services

Begins Fifth Year as Asbury Pastor

By ELAINE BALLINGER

Beginning his fifth year in charge of the Asbury Methodist Church at Lee and Evans Sts. last Sunday, Earl N. Hale of 392 E. Church St. has been pastor of the congregation as one of his many acts of service to the Marion community. He was reappointed to the pastorate recently at the Ohio Annual Conference of the Methodist Church at Lakeside.

Four years ago, he was named an unordained accepted supply pastor of the conference and served both the Asbury Church and the church at Morral as pastor two years. For the last two years has had charge of the Asbury church alone. He is also boys' probation counselor of the Marion Juvenile Court. Former executive secretary of the Marion YMCA, he had taken over work of the church previous to retiring from "Y" duties Aug. 1, 1949.

Known for his many civic activities in the interest of the good of the community, especially among young people, he received an honor in April when a service club here gave him a special recognition. For his "devoted adherence to the Golden Rule throughout his many years given in unselfish service to the welfare of youth" he was recipient of the first annual Book of Golden Deeds award made by the Exchange Club of Marion.

EARL N. HALE

The award cited his work as YMCA secretary from 1928 until 1949, his pastoral duties, and juvenile court service. Among his activities through the years has been the giving of time and effort toward the forming of or assistance in forming of civic groups such as Lions Club, Y Men's Club, 20-30 Club, Crippled Children's Society, Rotary Club, Hobby Club, Gray Y, Tri-Hi-Y, and Married People's Class at Epworth Methodist Church, and organization work in Golden Gloves boxing project, Back-a-Boy Project, and annual pre-Easter meetings at the Harding Memorial. He is known nationally for his hobby of study and lecture on the life of the Presidents.

Mrs. Hale has been active long in the community music circles. She has directed several church choirs and is president of the Marion Civic Chorus and of the Lecture-Recital Club.

Nation's Debt Load Rising

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)— The nation's burden of debt — governmental, business and personal — continues to mount. Another spurt is predicted in the coming six moths.

Is its size becoming dangerous? Most bankers say, "not yet." Can the nation's production and income support this debt? Most bankers say, "so far, yes." But the Institute of Life Insurance poses this question today:

"Rising debt is a normal accompaniment of expanding business activity, and plays a vital role in a high-production, high-consumption economy like ours. However, a volume of debt of the present size, amounting to the equivalent of some $4,000 for every person in the population, would alone seem to call for caution."

Department of Commerce figures show that last year the gross debt—of government, business and individuals combined — rose an estimated 40 billion dollars to a total of 640 billion dollars. This is 40 per cent higher than the gross debt in 1945 when World War II ended. It is almost three times the total owed when the war started.

Since the war home mortgage debt and consumer credit have increased the most. But business indebtedness could scarcely be called lagging. Corporate debt since the war has almost doubled—soaring from 85 billion dollars to 164 billion dollars.

Most of the money went into building new plants and buying new machinery. Corporation managers expect to pay off the debt from the increased earnings the new plant and equipment will make possible.

As long as business holds good, their chances of doing so are excellent.

Corporate debt seems likely to take another big rise in the coming months. The Commerce Department estimates that in July, August and September industry will spend more than seven billion dollars for additional plant and equipment, compared with six billion dollars in the same three months last year.

Much of the cost of this expansion will be paid out of past and present earnings. But a sizable part of it will have to come from borrowed money.

Governmental debts also are due for a big jump. State and local governments have been expanding their debt totals as service costs increase and as new schools, highways and other public works multiply.

The U. S. Treasury will have to borrow better than 30 billion dollars in the next six months. About 21 billion dollars will be needed to pay off or replace securities maturing in that time. But the Treasury estimates that in addition its "new money" needs will be somewhere between 9 and 12 billion dollars.

But for gross national debt, the Institute of Life Insurance has this calming view: Since 1945 debt has gone up 40 per cent, but national income has advanced 60 per cent.

The economy, therefore, has been growing faster than the burden of debt it is supporting. Only a bad business slump could tip the applecart.

Sycamore Class Sponsors Picnic

SYCAMORE — The Methodist Kind Words Class held its summer picnic at the home of Mrs. Frank Teal recently.

Mrs. Elizabeth McKibben presided at the meeting in the afternoon. Mrs. Willis Gregg gave a memorial to Mrs. Gertrude Walker, a member of the class who died recently. Mrs. Gregg read two poems, "If You Go First" and "Rainbow At Sunset." A reading was given by Mrs. Teal and Mrs. Frank Rapp had the devotional period.

Pigs now get to market faster because of antibiotics. Aureomycin fed to them during the growing period cuts down their feed requirements five per cent and enables them to reach market weight 10 per cent faster.

Mrs. Hedges Heads Prospect Gardeners

Special to The Star

PROSPECT — The Gardeners met recently at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Hedges with Mrs. Blanche Lauer as co-hotess. Devotions were by Mrs. Lauer.

The president Mrs. Lauer was in charge of the business meeting and announced that the three Garden Clubs would have a flower display at the Electric Light plant for the sesquicentennial. The committee for this includes Mrs. Murriel Lauer, Mrs. Josephine Isler; float, Mrs. Newell Davids; Mrs. Pauline Thomas and Mrs. Helen Collins. Mrs. Mildred Davids read the new constitution.

The following new officers were elected: president, Mrs. Hedges; vice president, Mrs. Irma Isler, secretary, Mrs. Ivadell Davids, treasurer, Mrs. Virginia Holt and reporter, Mrs. Margaret Russell.

Mrs. Murriel Laue read a poem and Mrs. Ada Wilcox, guest speaker talked on care of iris. A social hour followed and crazy bridge was played. Winners were Mrs. Irma Isler, Mrs. Lily Rogers and Mrs. Mildred Davids.

LOSES 24 LBS. IN 6 WEEKS WITH RENNEL

PERRYSVILLE, OHIO—"I can certainly praise the results I have received with Rennel Concentrate," writes Oliver Beechler. "I used Rennel for 6 weeks and in that time I lost 24 lbs. I am 72 years of age, and enjoy excellent health. I think I am justified in saying that Rennel Concentrate has done a great deal for me as I no longer suffer from shortness of breath which was caused from being overweight."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose pounds of bulky fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's no trouble and costs little. Ask your druggist for 4 ounces of liquid RENNEL CONCENTRATE. Pour this into pint bottle and add unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. It's that simple. If re-ducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic with the first bottle, return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Note how bloat disappears—how much better you feel. Now is the time to reduce. Ask your druggist for RENNEL. Costs only $1.60.

YES SIR! I'M PROUD OF MY YOUNG SON!

He Knows What's Meant By The American Way of Life.

And He Practices It Every Day . . . He Carries A STAR Newspaper Route!

I believe a Dad has the right to be proud of a son like mine. He's just starting in junior high, but even at his age he knows what is meant by the American Way of Life. If everyone knew what it means as well as he does, the future would look a lot brighter.

And you know how he learned it? By carrying his Star newspaper route. He knows that by giving his customers good service and value received he has a right to earn a profit.

If our world is going to progress, it will do so because people in it learn to get along with each other. My boy knows that! That's why he's a newspaperboy, and that's why I'm a proud Dad!

ool Drinks For a Hot Fourth of July

PIE PLANT COOLER goes with Old Glory.

CELEBRATE with this glorified cola.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here's something with an old-fashioned air about it for thirst quenching on July Fourth. It's a luscious drink sweetened and flavored with rhubarb—yes, old-time pie plant — and ginger ale. And here's something brand new — a spicy syrup for callers who go for cola.

What to serve holiday visitors with the drinks? Why not cool summery sandwiches of cucumbers and tomatoes with water cress or lettuce? Use thin fresh white bread for the sandwiches and slather it with lots of butter and salad dressing. Just to celebrate in a special way, make up a jar of old-style "boiled" salad dressing to use. Remember how wonderful it used to taste on cucumbers and tomatoes when you were a little girl? Well, it still does!

For a sweet treat, bake a big flat cake; use a cake mix if you want to save time and energy. Split the cake in two crosswise and spread with pureed apricot preserves; sandwich together again, cut in small squares and frost all the tops and sides with a white icing. Stand a perky small flag in each cake square.

PIE PLANT COOLER

Ingredients: 1 cup heavy cream, 1 cup pureed sweetened cooked rhubarb, pale dry ginger ale.

Method: Whip cream; fold in rhubarb. Divide among 4 tall glasses. Fill glasses with ice-cold pale dry ginger ale. Stir gently to mix. Makes 4 servings.

SPICE SYRUP FOR COLA DRINKS

Ingredients: ¼ cup bitter orange marmalade, 1/3 cup water, 2 tablespoons raisins, 8 whole cloves, ½ cup unsweetened canned grapefruit juice.

Method: Put marmalade, water, raisins and cloves in small saucepan. Stir over low heat for 5 minutes. Cool; stir in grapefruit juice; chill until ready to use.

To Serve. Pour 2 tablespoons of the cola syrup over frozen cola cubes in glass; fill glass with chilled cola beverage. Garnish with slice of orange, maraschino cherry and mint. Makes 8 servings.

The night before July Fourth, fill a couple of ice-cube trays with cola, ginger ale or any other flavored carbonated beverage you like, and have soft-drink ice cubes all ready to use on the holiday. For best results, chill the beverage in the bottle before you pour it into the tray, then the flavored ice cubes will be "bubbly."

Double Ring Wedding Featured at Upper

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — The Rev. Andrew Kolarovsky, pastor of the First Lutheran Church in Upper Sandusky, officiated at the double ring ceremony, uniting in marriage, Miss Barbara Jan Maffett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Maffett, of this city, and Robert Raymond Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Schmidt, of Columbus.

The ceremony was read at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, June 14, in the First Lutheran Church.

Miss Nancy Maffett, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Miss Betty Risch, was bridesmaid. Mrs. Dick Widdoes, served as matron of honor, and Miss Jan Sopher, junior bridesmaid. Sharon Strub was flower girl and Jack Blumm of Cincinnati, served as best man.

Miss Helen Binau, church organist, played several selections Miss Marrianne Hammon, Columbus, cousin of the bridegroom, sang the nuptial selections.

A reception followed immediately after the ceremony, at the parish house.

The new Mrs. Schmidt graduated from Upper Sandusky High School and Grant School of Nursing in Columbus, and is now employed at Columbus. Mr. Schmidt graduated from Bexley High School and is now attending OSU dentristry school. The couple will reside in Columbus.

Parade To Top Ohio Celebration At Bucyrus

BUCYRUS—A historical parade will be the highlight of Bucyrus' observance of Ohio's sesquicentennial celebration, Edwin Norton, city chairmen for the event, announced today.

This city's celebration of 150 years of statehood for Ohio will take place during the week of Oct. 12 to 17 with the parade scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 17. Older residents recall that a similar parade, with floats and bands depicting the history of the city and state was held here in 1921 when Bucyrus celebrated its centennial.

During the city's week-long celebration, merchants will be asked to display articles of historical value in their windows.

Franklin J. Roelle, Bucyrus attorney, is Crawford County chairman for the sesquicentennial.

Today's Birthday

EARL MOUNTBATTEN, born June 25, 1900, at Windsor, England, as Louis Francis Albert Victor Nicholas Mountbatten. This glamorous head of the commandos in World WAR II, whose raids set the pattern for the Normandy invasion, became the viceroy who closed Britain's rule in India.

A distant cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, he is a grandson of Queen Victoria and uncle to the Duke of Edinburgh.

The University of Illinois Library School, first of its kind west of the Alleghanies, is observing its 60th birthday. Of 3,565 living alumni, 2,950 are actively engaged in library work.

Galion Couple To Observe 50th Wedding Year

Special to The Star

GALION — A well-known Galion couple, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wiener, who have been residents for the past few years at the Reformed Church Home at Upper Sandusky, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, there, Sunday, June 28.

Open house will be observed from 2 to 4:30 p.m., and Mr. and Mrs. Wiener will receive their friends and relatives at that time. At the noon hour they will join their family for a dinner out.

Mrs. Wiener is the former Amelia Block, and she and Mr. Wiener were married in Galion at her home, June 30, 1903, by the late Rev. Daniel Burghalter, pastor of the First Reformed Church at that time.

Until the past few years, they had spent their married life in Galion, and were active in church and Masonic orders. They have three children, Edwin of Chicago, Robert of Jackson, Miss., and George of South Bend, Ind. There are four grandchildren.

Mrs. Wiener has a brother, Maurice Block of Pasadena, Calif., and a sister, Mrs. A. W. Bradfield of Galion. Mr. Wiener is the last of his family, but has two sons by a former marriage, Gilbert Wiener of Galion, and Alonze of Cleveland.

ASK WAGE BOOST

CLEVELAND (AP)—The CIO-United Rubber Workers presented wage boost demands Tuesday to the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. but did not make them public. The union's requests are for 72,000 employes in Akron and seven other cities. They were made at a session in a Cleveland hotel.

Sycamore Residents To Note 50th Year

Special to The Star

SYCAMORE—On Saturday, June 27, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Funk of Sycamore will have been married for 50 years and will celebrate their golden anniversary with an open house reception for friends and relatives at their home on N. Main St. Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Funk was the former Eliza Price. They were marreid in Tiffin June 27, 1903, and have lived in the vicinity of Tiffin and Sycamore for their entire lives. Mr. Funk was engaged in farming until his retirement several years ago.

They are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Alden of Sycamore; Mrs. Laura Stuckey of Old Fort and Mrs. Mabel Ziegler of Bloomville. A son and daughter are deceased. They also have ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Prices of Beef Decline In Some Regions

"Specials" Offered To Customers During Week End

By The Associated Press

Beef prices edged still lower in many parts of the country this week. Among their "specials" for the coming week-end, supermarkets gave a prominent spot to such items as rib roast, pot roast, all-beef Frankfurters and sirloin steaks.

Chain store prices of rib roasts dropped four cents a pound in New York, six cents in Jacksonville, Fla., and three cents in Los Angeles.

Pork prices, which last week tumbled from lofty heights, began to develop erratic trends. In New York City prices of center cut pork chops advanced about 12 cents a pound after plummeting 20 cents the previous week. Center cut chops were around four cents a pound higher in Chicago and ten cents lower in Jacksonville. Meanwhile pork on the hoof continued high at major livestock markets.

Fryers, a long-time favorite of the budget-conscious housewife, were again among the week's best buys at meat and poultry counters. Lamb appeared on the list of week-end specials in some supermarkets. Fish—mackerel, smelts, halibut and salmon—were generally plentiful and cheap. Prices of shrimp started moving down in response to buyer resistance.

The Department of Agriculture headlined potatoes and cabbage as the outstanding food buys of the week. Beets, carrots, radishes, iceberg lettuce, celery, squash, green beans, peas and corn also provided bargain opportunities. Prices of cucumbers descended sharply from their pinnacles of two weeks ago; tomato prices moved lower. Fruits from the West Coast and the Southland continued to dominate produce counters. Listed as good buys again this week were cantaloupes, red plums and bing cherries from California, and peaches from Georgia and the Carolinas.

Grapes, while still high in price, were somewhat below last week's levels.

Egg prices advanced another notch. Prices of the large white grade "A" variety moved up one or two cents a dozen in some East and West Coast cities.

Pearl St. Pupils Send Him Sesqui Scrapbook

Ike Thanks Marion 5th Graders

President Eisenhower has received and taken note of a scrapbook on Ohio prepared for him by the boys and girls of a fifth grade class at Pearl Street School.

In observance of Ohio's Sesquicentennial, the class, taught by Mrs. Ila Felgar, compiled articles on Ohio, symbols of the state and historical data on cities and people, arranging them into a scrapbook. Topics were selected by each of the 34 boys and girls, and they wrote the articles signing their names. Pupils also illustrated the articles with free-hand drawings.

It was decided by the group to dedicate the magazine to the President and Jerry Bechtle, of 659 Irey Ave., was elected by the class to send it to him along with a picture of the group and a letter of explanation.

A "thank you" note on White House stationary and personally signed by President Eisenhower was received Monday by Jerry. It read:

"Dear boys and girls,

"I thank you for sending the copy of your magazine about Ohio which you kindly dedicated to me. I am glad to have it and to see the photograph of your class.

"Have a good summer and good luck next year in the sixth grade.

Sincerely

Dwight D. Eisenhower."

The cover for the book, colored with crayons, had a Buckeye tree in the center and surrounding it were the various official Ohio symbols, including the state bird, the state flower, the state seal and the buckeye. It was designed and drawn free hand by Vance Creviston and Tommy Agnew.

The book was prepared during the past school year and then sent to Washington.

After the book was made for the President, each boy and girl made a copy and presented it to his mother on Mother's Day.

The idea for the book was originated by the pupils and planned by them, with Mrs. Felgar acting only as a supervisor.

Bucyrus Class Names Marionite President

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus High School's Class of 1928 Association held its third reunion in 25 years here last weekend and re-elected Charlton Myers, a Marion attorney, as president. Mr. Myers was class president 25 years ago. Sixty-three were present, including 35 members of the class, which numbered 101.

The group's next reunion will be held in 1958.

If You Finance Your Car

Be sure to ask to have it insured with a local agent, who will take a personal interest in seeing that you get good service. His bread and butter depends on that.

An out of town agent suggested by a Finance Company would not be expected to have the same interest in you that your friendly Local Agent would have.

Wouldn't you rather have your insurance at home. It's up to you.

Newlyweds To Live Near Sycamore

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Miss Barbara Zwilling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zwilling, Bucyrus, became the bride of Paul DeJean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeJean of near Nevada, in a double ring ceremony performed Saturday morning in the parsonage of Holy Trinity Catholic Church here by the Rev. Fr. Leo L. Reinartz, church pastor.

Mrs. Clarence Harriger of Bucyrus was matron of honor for her sister and Gino Caporini of Bucyrus was best man. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. DeJean is a 1952 graduate of Bucyrus High School and is employed in the offices of the Swan Rubber Co. here. Mr. DeJean, a 1949 graduate of Eden Township High School, is employed at the Cobey Corp. in Bucyrus. They will live near Sycamore.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

TO STORE WHEAT SAFELY AT HOME FOR GOVERNMENT LOAN FOLLOW THESE STEPS
1. Clean and spray bins and surrounding building surfaces NOW.
2. We will custom dry your wheat if it is over 12% moisture when combined. Damp wheat will get weavily in a hurry. Should be 12% or lower for safe storage. High moisture content is the principal reason for farm stored wheat getting out of condition.
3. Use sheet metal, hardware cloth or other materials to make bin rodent proof.
4. Be sure windows and other openings are in good repair to prevent entry of birds.
5. Fumigate promptly within two to three weeks after grain is stored.
6. Observe condition of wheat often during storage period.

The World Today

Korean War Evaluated

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Since the Korean War is three years old today this might seem a good time for appraising what has been gained or lost by the United States and United Nations on one side and the Communists on the other.

But any appraisal now can only be temporary even though some results may seem apparent. What seem like positive accomplishments today could be wiped out five years from now without another shot being fired.

For instance, if peace is restored, South Korea through trade and other pressures and relationships with North Korea and China might be infiltrated by Communists who could take over quietly.

At the same time the future may show Korea was the turning point in the Western World's struggle against communism for it was toward the end of the three years that Russia changed tactics and talked peace.

In short, the full results of the Korean War cannot be known for years. Yet, on a temporary basis only, some things on the credit and debit sides can be pointed to.

This country and its Allies in the U. N. have operated in the belief that in the struggle against communism none of them can stand alone, that they must work collectively, and that Communist expansion and aggression must be stopped.

From that view point there can be no doubt the U. N.'s getting into the war accomplished a number of things:

A. It saved the Republic of Korea from being overwhelmed by Communist force.

B. It was a supreme test of the U. N. itself: would it be simply a helpless and ineffective debating society like the League of Nations or was it able and willing to take collective action against aggression? The answer was that it would act.

C. This in turn undoubtedly stiffened the backs of many smaller countries which, unable to match the might of Russia or Communist China, might otherwise have yielded long before now to Communist pressure or threats or direct attack.

D. Judging from what has not happened in the past three years, the Communists were discouraged from committing similar aggressions elsewhere. If they had used Korea as a testing ground to find out how much they could get away with, they found their answer.

E. Fear of what might come next to all of them after the Korean outbreak drove the Western Allies into stepped-up rearmament, giving them a military defense at the end of the three years far greater than they had before Korea.

So much for what the Allies accomplished. But there is a debit side which, except for the lives lost, does not appear on the ledger at the moment as very grave.

The costs of Korea and rearmament put an economic strain on the Allies. And they developed inner tensions. At the end of three years, seemingly lulled into a feeling of security by Russia's sweet-talk and Russia's failure to make another aggressive move, the Western Allies have slowed down their rearmament.

And some differences, such as in dealing with Russia, have begun to appear among them. Briefly, they began to display, for all to see, a great weariness of war, even in such a small war as Korea where the U. S. bore almost all the burden.

As for the Chinese, while they lost hundreds of thousands of men, they used the war, with Russia's help, to build an impressive military machine which cannot but frighten their Asian neighbors.

The Russians, if only because they had to help the Chinese, stepped up their own arms production, found the war a testing ground for weapons, and at the same time lost some ground:

Western Europe, which looked like a pushover any time Russia wanted to move before Korea, is no longer a pushover, or at least as quick a pushover.

Galion Class Sponsors Party

Special to The Star

GALION—The annual Mother - Daughter dinner party of the Naomi Class was held at First Methodist Church, Monday night. Covers were laid for 67 members and guests. The dinner was prepared by the Friendship Class with Mrs. Robert Walker and Mrs. Thomas Noble as co-chairman. Men of this class served the dinner.

Prayer of thanks was offered by Mrs. C. F. King. The program opened with group singing led by Mrs. Judd V. Dye, with Mrs. King at the piano. Mrs. Russell Smith was chairman, and those taking part were Mrs. W. E. Hubbard, Mrs. Otto Carmel, Sandra Pickering, Miss Joan Spaid, Mrs. Robert Walker, Dorothy Plack, all of Galion, Mrs. Lloyd Weaver of Shelby.

Committee chairmen were Mrs. Carl Shaw, Mrs. Warren Deaton, Mrs. Ralph Spaid, Mrs. J. F. Blazer, Mrs. Russell Smith, Mrs. Carmel and Mrs. P. T. Field.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Virginia Stephens of Prestonburg, Ky., Mrs. Thomas R. Dougherty of Springfield, Mrs. Earl Beck of Cleveland, Mrs. Robert Neff of Crestline, and Mrs. Weaver of Shelby.

BAPTIST CLASS MEETS

The Loyal Daughters Class of the Emmanuel Baptist Church met recently at the home of Mrs. Ann Meddles of near Prospect. Mrs. Eva Condron was in charge of devotions with prayers by Mrs. Ruth Monahan and Mrs. Leona Morris. Mrs. Hattie Russell, Mrs. Meddles and Mrs. Morris were members of the refreshment committee. Mrs. Joe Ballard closed the meeting with a prayer. The next meeting will be July 16.

Pasadena Cop Has Busy Day, Nabs 15

PASADENA (AP)—Martin Stornie, 26, was a busy policeman yesterday. He arrested 15 men, seven of them suspects in an armed robbery case.

The former military policeman and Korea veteran apprehended the seven in a car shortly after a $19 garage holdup. Earlier he had stopped a car and found seven Mexican nationals in the trunk. The driver was booked on suspicion of illegally transporting aliens.

What's Behind The PRICE TAG on a USED CAR?

When you shop for a used car, the big question in your mind is —what will you get for your money?

You can't answer that by merely looking the car over, or even listening to the engine. The smart thing to do is to buy your car from a dealer who has a reputation to maintain.

We're Buick dealers. We know it pays to sell dependable cars. We intend to stay in business—to keep making new friends. And we know that the good will of a used-car customer is just as important as that of a man who buys a brand-new Buick.

That's why we recondition and guarantee our best cars — and sell them under a rigid All Square policy. When we're willing to stand behind them, with all our resources and our reputation — you know they're bargains in quality as well as in price!

Most of these are fine one-owner cars—priced low enough so your present car will more than cover the down payment. Come see our All Square cars—this week!

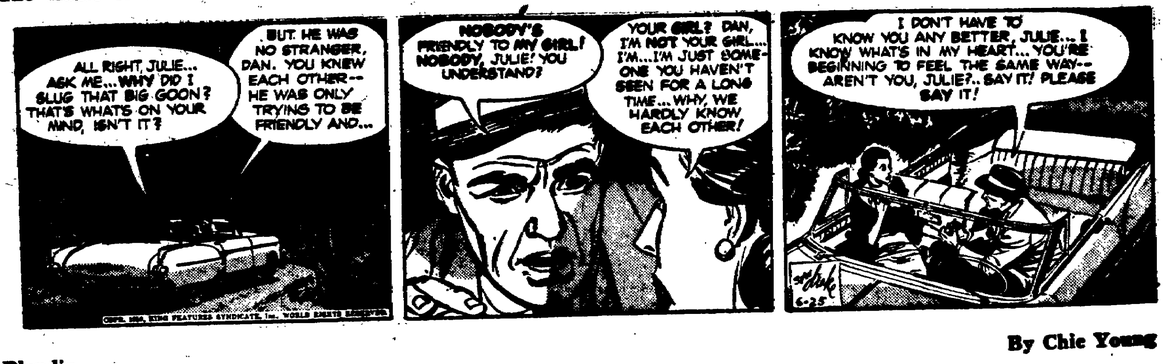
The Heart of Juliet Jones By Stan Drake



ALL RIGHT, JULIE... ASK ME...WHY DID I SLUG THAT BIG GOON? THAT'S WHAT'S ON YOUR MIND, ISN'T IT?
BUT HE WAS NO STRANGER, DAN. YOU KNEW EACH OTHER--HE WAS ONLY TRYING TO BE FRIENDLY AND...
NOBODY'S FRIENDLY TO MY GIRL! NOBODY, JULIE! YOU UNDERSTAND?
YOUR GIRL? DAN, I'M NOT YOUR GIRL... I'M...I'M JUST SOMEONE YOU HAVEN'T SEEN FOR A LONG TIME...WHY, WE HARDLY KNOW EACH OTHER!
I DON'T HAVE TO KNOW YOU ANY BETTER, JULIE...I KNOW WHAT'S IN MY HEART...YOU'RE BEGINNING TO FEEL THE SAME WAY--AREN'T YOU, JULIE?..SAY IT! PLEASE SAY IT!

Michigan Schoolboy Firemen Vital To Detroit Air Defense

GROSSE ILE, Mich. (INS — A boy's dream come true is the screeching fire engine currently rattling the nerves of once-peaceful Grosse Ile, island suburb of the city of Detroit.

But to the island's hundreds of mid-Detroit river residents, what began as a teen-ager's hobby may prove the means of saving lives in the event of an air attack against important nearby Detroit factories or the Grosse Ile Naval Air Station.

In fact, so important has the plaything become that volunteer Grosse Ile fire chief Edward L. Reaume has tapped the rig, complete with ladders, spotlight and force pump — and crew — for civil defense drills.

It all started in April when 14-year-old Bill Trier and his dad detoured through Grand Rapids, Mich., enroute home from Florida.

Bill spotted a 31-year-old Grand Rapids fire rig, put out to pasture in a neighborhood junk yard when city fathers decided to buy newer and more modern fire equipment.

Bill borrowed the $175 the junk dealer asked for the old rig, his father acting as "banker" in the transaction. Together, they drove the fire engine to Grosse Ile, and Bill set about "recruiting" his after-school fire department.

At 14, Bill already had earned a reputation as curator of a jalopy or two, which he purchased for $25 each, rebuilt and peddled to neighborhood auto dealers at a $75 profit.

Thus, it proved no problem for him to rewire the engine of the rig, install a gasoline generator, auxiliary spotlight and a force pump.

Chief Reaume managed to "secure" official fire department helmets for Bill and his five-man crew. And Reaume, who also serves as Grosse Ile police chief, somehow has declined to follow up on citizens' complaints that at least one ladder has — let us say —"disappeared" recently.

So far, the dream still is in the plaything stage, but Reaume recently told a meeting of the island's volunteer fire department:

"We'd better cooperate with those boys.

"They really might be able to help in an emergency."
